Italy Blocks Sale Of Planes To Egyptians

Government Bans Export Of Fighters By Private Firm

ROME, Nov. 11 (AP)—The West got a breather today in the perilous Middle East arms race as Italy announced she would ban export of 30 Italian-made jet fighters ordered by Egypt.

The 30 would have been in addition to 16 Vampire jets shipped earlier this year by a private Italian manufacturer in which the Italian government, ally of the West, was not involved.

Italy's announcement she would refuse export licenses for the obsolescent planes — manufactured under British license by the Macchi Works of Varese — may have saved the West from an embarrassing situation.

Up to now, the Soviet has caught the blame for the arms buildup which Western diplomats fear could lead to a major explosion between Arab states and Israel in the oil-rich area centered around the vital Suez Canal.

The Middle East crisis was precipitated when the Communist bloc sold 200 planes, 100 tanks, six submarines and other war equipment to Egypt's military government at cut-rate prices. Substantial deliveries already have been made.

The Italian Foreign Office, while denying knowledge of any Egyptian jet order or past delivery, said Italy would refuse export licenses, if asked for them.

Despite official Italian denials, Associated Press correspondents received confirmation of the two jet deals from responsible officials of three interested governments. Foreign sources said Italy had been "unofficially" advised of the arms transactions.

There was eyewitness confirmation of the first 16-plane deal, an American airline official said he saw the planes—already marked with Egyptian air force insignia—parked on Milan airport prior to take off for Cairo. This is the airfield used by the Macchi plant for testing.

Reliable informants said also that two Egyptian planes reported shot down by Israeli fighters recently bore Macchi markings. Egypt's version was that the two planes collided.

Egypt, it is understood, placed the orders for the Vampires after being turned down by the French in a bid to buy the much more modern and faster Mystere III.

Egyptian sources claim the French, mad at Egypt because of their North African troubles, have sold 36 Mysteres to Israel in recent months. Egyptians say the new French planes tipped the air balance of power heavily to Israel.

9-Foot Ouachita Channel Favored By Two Groups

CAMDEN, Ark., Nov. 11 (Special)—H. K. Thatcher, executive vice president of the Ouachita River Valley Association, said today that he received "very good atmosphere all the way along" on his recent trip to Washington, D. C., to plead for a nine foot channel in the Ouachita river.

Thatcher, who spent about a week in Washington, said he presented argument for the nine foot channel before the U. S. Corp of Engineers and the Budget Bureau.

The Ouachita Valley representative said that Congress authorized the nine foot channel in 1950. "But that is only one step," he said, "and giving reasons for the nine foot channel is another step."

Thatcher commented that he wished "more people and industries from Louisiana would contribute to our nine foot channel cause. So far, I know of only two Monroe — West Monroe area industries that have contributed."

He added that a new dam on the Caddo river, about 60 miles north of Camden, was put into operation about a week ago.

"This new dam," Thatcher said, "will control considerable springtime flood damage on the Ouachita river; it will give us about six inches more water in the Ouachita here during dry months; and it will mean about 250 million gallons of water daily into the Ouachita, which is good for the pollution problems."

Bastrop Police Win Inter-City Pistol Competition

The Bastrop police department won first place team honors in the Monroe Inter-city Peace Officers Pistol Shoot here yesterday while the Monroe Police Department dominated individual competition by entering the two top individual scorers in the meet.

In team competition, the Monroe police department won second and the Ouachita parish sheriff's department placed third.

The first place Bastrop team consisted of L. T. Beckwith, Ray Herring, J. Freeman and H. Singley. Comprising the second place Monroe police department team were C. W. Hand, F. T. Van George Whitlow and W. J. Hummcut.

Van, a Monroe city detective, posted an 86 out of the possible 90 to win the first place individual trophy. Sgt. W. J. Hummcut of the Monroe police department fired an 85 for the second place individual trophy and officer Freeman, of the Bastrop police department, got the third place individual trophy with an 85. Although Hummcut and Freeman tied in actual points, Hummcut got the nod for the second place spot by scoring five hits a possible, to Freeman's four in the first event.

Jes' Ramblin'

Quite an honor, and one well deserved, is to come to Rabbi Jacob Lantz, of B'Nai Israel synagogue, who has been named by the clergy of the city to deliver the Thanksgiving day address to downtown church audiences on November 24.

The Rabbi is a newcomer here, having served in his capacity only since last September but he has made such a circle of warm friends that it is not at all surprising that he has been the choice of the various ministers of the city when a speaker for Thanksgiving was required. ## Army Cancels Part Of Troop Shift To Polk

III Corps Group To Return To Texas After Maneuvers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Army today staged a slight retreat under heavy pressure from Texas and announced that some troops originally slated for transfer to Ft. Polk, La., would remain at Ft. Hood, Texas.

The Army said that after a "re-examination" by Sec. Wilber M. Brucker the 3rd Corps Headquarters and its supporting troops, about 1,200 men, will return to Hood after taking part in the Sagebrush Maneuver starting this week in Louisiana.

Despite complaints from Texas senators and Texas Gov. Allan Shivers, however, the Army stuck to its previously announced decision to move the famed 1st Armored Division from Ft. Hood to Ft. Polk after the big maneuvers are completed.

Stevenson Backs Use Of U. S. Force In Near East

Global Inspection Reds Reject New Offers From West

GENEVA, Nov. 11 (AP)—Russia again rejected the Eisenhower aerial inspection plan tonight despite an American offer to extend it to as many as 50 other nations.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pleaded vainly with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to accept the plan on this new global basis.

Molotov replied that Dulles had "not dealt with the Soviet delegation's objections."

With angry words, the Big Four foreign ministers exchanged condemnations of rival East and West disarmament programs they had submitted yesterday to their deadlocked conference.

After Molotov's new rebuff of Eisenhower's "open air" idea, Dulles declared:

"The Soviet proposals are a cruel deception which is sought to be perpetrated on peoples of the world for propaganda purposes."

As for the three Allies' proposals, Molotov charged that "they do not contain a single provision that would guarantee any practical step to terminate the armaments race and to prohibit atomic weapons." He added:

"The Western proposals even legalize the employment of atomic weapons — contradicting the honor and conscience of humanity."

"The Western Powers are now retreating and trying to nullify results that were achieved in earlier disarmament discussions."

The stormy 11th session brought an announcement by Molotov as the day's chairman that the Big Four would terminate their Geneva negotiations next Wednesday.

Another round of disarmament arguments is slated for tomorrow. On Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, the foreign ministers will discuss development of East-West contacts. Their experts committee disbanded yesterday without agreement on any recommendation on contacts.

The foreign ministers again will take up on Tuesday afternoon the questions of European security and German reunification. They have clashed on these since the opening debate Oct. 27.

They will devote Wednesday to trying to agree on a communique with which to end the three-week conference. It may at least faintly reflect "the Geneva spirit" which shone here for the summit conference.

Father Of Slain Chicago Boys Dies Of Heart Attack

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—The grieving father of two of three murdered Chicago schoolboys died today after a heart attack.

Anton Schuessler Sr., succumbed to the weariness and exhaustion of first, anxiety, and then a ceaseless search for the killer of his only two sons and a playmate.

Schuessler, 42-year-old tailor, was the father of John, 13, and Anton Jr., 11, whose strangled bodies were found Oct. 18 in the Robinson Woods forest preserve. Also slain was 14-year-old Robert Peterson. The murders remain unsolved.

Schuessler closed his shop to help police work on the crime as well as pursue every angle he could develop on his own.

The strain showed and early today he entered a rest home, in suburban Des Plaines. His wife, Eleanor, had said then:

"His nerves are shot. He's going to stay in the home at least a week, and maybe two, and get a complete rest."

It was there that he died.

Warmer Weather To Precede Cold

Warmer weather is forecast here Saturday, but thundershowers are expected to precede the arrival of a new cold front Sunday.

A severe cold wave, with hard freezes and sleet and snow following in its wake, is expected to smash its way into North Texas tonight, promising a sharp temperature drop here sometime Sunday.

Arkansas is expected to begin to feel the effects of the cold front sometime tonight.

Ellender Urges Trade With Reds To End Surpluses

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, today suggested trade with Russia and its satellites as a solution to crop surpluses.

"Every effort must be made to sell abroad," Ellender said after concluding a hearing here. "I would extend it to Russia with the condition that we get something we need in exchange and that the Russian people be informed where the food came from so it couldn't be used for propaganda purposes."

Ellender did not say how he would go about policing the use of surpluses sold to Russia.

He said he learned on a recent world wide tour that there is "great demand in Russia for milk, meat and poultry."

The Louisiana senator presided over the last in a series of committee hearings sounding out farmers on agricultural problems and proposed solutions.

He said a "great effort" should be made to trade with Russian satellites, "because they are with us in spirit even if the Russians won't let them work with us."

"Even if the Russians force them to reject our offer, it's still a good offer."

Ellender accused the State Department of tossing a "lot of sticks in the wheels to prevent surpluses from being sold abroad on a regular commercial basis."

British Pilot Survives In Supersonic Bail-Out

LONDON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Air Ministry disclosed today a British pilot is thought to have abandoned his aircraft at supersonic speed—yet lived to tell his story.

Royal Air Force authorities are studying the report of 22-year-old Flying Officer Henry Molland, who bailed out of his crippled jet fighter at 25,000 feet. Just before ejecting himself, Molland reported his machometer registered a speed approximating 700 m.p.h.—just beyond the speed of sound at that height.

An Air Ministry spokesman commented: "In view of the evidence, it is considered a distinct possibility that he left his aircraft at a speed in excess of that of sound." He added it was only the second recorded supersonic escape. The first was in the United States at 40,000 feet where the speed of sound is around 600 m.p.h.

Molland told reporters: "It happened at the end of a routine training flight. We had been at 40,000 feet. I started a high speed dive. Down to 30,000 feet she did not show any signs of responding. I knew I had to abandon.

"At 25,000 feet I ejected. The machometer was reading 1.1 (one tenth beyond the speed of sound). 'I can't remember anything for about 20 seconds after operating the ejection equipment. The seat fell away at 10,000 feet and my chute opened. What a relief!

"I came down in the sea about four miles off Felixstowe, and was pretty lucky, for a target-towing tug picked me up almost immediately. They got me on board and I had a cigarette and a cup of strong tea."

At Ipswich Hospital, Molland was found to have a broken arm, two black eyes and a fractured pelvis bone. The blast as he left the plane stripped off his flying helmet and gloves, wrenched a watch from his wrist and tore off his left shoe and sock.

Would Occupy Egypt-Israel Neutral Zone

Top Democratic Hopeful Says U. S. Must Prevent War

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Nov. 11 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson proposed tonight that the United Nations mount guard on the flaming borders between Israel and her Arab neighbors, to enforce peace in the Middle East.

Stevenson, who is expected to announce next Tuesday he is a candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination, did not mention in a speech prepared for a University of Virginia audience how United Nations troops would be raised.

But he left the clear implication he would be willing to support an American contribution of men toward the necessary guards he said might prevent the development of "all-out war."

"A major effort of statesmanship is required if we are to avert a political disaster in this troubled area," the 1952 presidential nominee declared. "We have shown little initiative within or outside the United Nations in devising measures to prevent these border incidents."

Stevenson said it seemed evident the way to avoid bloodshed was to "keep the troops of these antagonists apart."

"And I wonder if United Nations guards could not undertake patrol duties in the areas of tension and collision," he said. "Certainly both sides would respect United Nations patrols where they do not trust each other."

The Eisenhower administration has given no indication it would be willing to involve American troops in the Middle Eastern dispute, even as a part of any U.N. action.

The State Department has said it would be "strongly opposed to" (Continued on Fourteenth Page)

Five Men Die As Navy Plane Hits U. S. Destroyer

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 11—UP—Five men were killed Friday when a naval attack bomber, apparently on a simulated bombing run, dove into the destroyer USS Hopewell during joint United States-Canadian maneuvers, the Navy reported.

The dead included the three men aboard the propeller-driven plane and two members of the destroyer's crew.

The plane's engine tore completely through the ship from one side to the other, passing through the engine room and the laundry room.

The destroyer limped to port under half power on one engine with the five bodies aboard after two others destroyers helped it put out fires started by the crash and explosion.

The Douglas Skyraider was attached to the San Diego Naval Air Station and was operating under the air forces of the Pacific Fleet.

Friday's accident was the second involving a destroyer during the current joint maneuvers. Late Wednesday night a sister ship, the destroyer USS Boyd, collided with the Japanese freighter Tamen Maru. The Boyd suffered extensive damage but the Tamen Maru was only slightly damaged.

Guatemala's President End U. S. Visit In Tour Of New Orleans Area

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 11 (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas of Guatemala, on the last stop of a visit to the United States, toured New Orleans today.

The Guatemalan leader will spend tomorrow here, too. He is scheduled to leave Sunday to return to Guatemala.

Castillo Armas spoke tonight at a banquet honoring him.

The young-looking Central American president, credited with ousting the Communist government from his nation's helm a year ago last June, told a press conference today Guatemala will provide asylum for ex-dictator Juan Peron of Argentina if the deposed leader asked for it and agrees to abide by the laws of the country.

"The policy of our government is an open door to anybody who wants to reside in Guatemala, on condition that he respects the laws of the country.

"If any request was ever made (by Peron) the first thing that would have to be done would be to find out under what conditions he wants to reside in Guatemala," Castillo Armas said.

Asked about the uprising by the Brazilian Army, Castillo Armas said:

"As a general policy, I don't wish to give any opinion on the internal affairs of friendly nations. I don't know what happened today in Brazil.

"But, through the friendships I have had with officers of the Brazilian Army, I'm certain the army wouldn't have acted in any way except to defend the vital interests of the country, he said.

Referring to a remark made by a delegate to the recent Inter American Press Assn. meeting to the effect that some Guatemalan government officials are disloyal, Castillo Armas said:

"I would like to know which officials this refers to. As a general rule, all my ministers and officials are working with enthusiasm in the reconstruction of the country. He said there may be exceptions which he doesn't know about.

Castillo Armas said his people now have "absolute liberty and freedom."

Castillo Armas arrived in the United States Oct. 31, Washington was his first stop. He also visited New York City, Denver, Detroit, St. Louis and Houston.

The purpose of the Denver visit two days ago was to give Castillo Armas a chance to talk to President Eisenhower.

He said the President looked in good condition.

"His health looked absolutely perfect. He seemed completely gay and happy," he said.

Castillo Armas spoke to newsmen through an interpreter, Jorge Skinner-Klee, secretary to the president.

If the average reader took a step for each movement of the eyes made in an eight-hour day of reading, he'd walk 33 miles, according to the Better Vision Institute.

Solons Predict Better Relations With Argentina

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay Nov. 11 (AP)—A U.S. congressional group arriving today from Buenos Aires indicated its members expect closer future relations between the United States and the new Argentine government in agricultural matters.

The House Agriculture Subcommittee is seeking new markets for U.S. government-owned surplus farm commodities and studying results of the U.S. foreign technical assistance program in agriculture.

Roberto Merleir Argentine minister of agriculture received the legislators in his office near government buildings which were sprayed with machine gun fire during the June revolution.

Although the exiled former dictator Juan Peron was not mentioned by name he obviously was in the minds of all present when Rep. W.R. Poage (D-Tex) subcommittee chairman said:

"We are hopeful that Argentina can regain its former status as one of the world's great producers of agricultural products. We know that your production has dropped seriously in recent years because of lack of proper incentive for the farmers."

Merleir expressed confidence that Argentina would increase its agricultural output under the present administration. He voiced hope that pending negotiations with the United States will result in sending Argentina edible oils primarily or entirely cotton seed oil.

Merleir also expressed interest in Argentina's getting assistance under the U.S. foreign technical aid program.

Poage told Merleir he would oppose giving Argentina technical assistance which would lead to its increasing production of commodities for sale on world markets in competition with the United States. He cited cotton and wheat as examples.

Insurance Officer Lauds Progress Of Auto Safety

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 11 (AP)—A national insurance leader said today "practical and effective application of proved safety engineering methods" by industrialists would reduce not only insurance premiums but also the cost of accidents.

H. W. Heinrich, superintendent of the engineering and loss control division, Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., spoke to the first annual insurance seminar at Louisiana State University.

Some 200 insurance officials, insurance buyers and safety engineers from Louisiana and Texas attended the conference, jointly sponsored by LSU and the casualty and surety division, State Insurance Rating Commission.

Heinrich said for every dollar of compensation and medical expense caused by an accident there were four dollars in other costs.

"It is practicable not only for industry to control its own insurance costs but in addition to cut out of pocket expense to the extent of sums greater than the entire premiums which he is so desirous of reducing," he concluded.

Leon H. Oliver, Boston, vice president of the Employers' Group Insurance Companies, said there had been an increasing threat since World War one on the part of government to enter the insurance field.

He said seven states already prevented insurance companies from writing workmen's compensation an write it in a state fund.

Penny Shortage Puzzling To U. S. Mint Officials

DENVER, Nov. 11 (AP)—A mysterious shortage of pennies throughout the nation has caused 11-hour shifts at the U.S. mint here.

Mrs. Alma K. Schneider mint superintendent said today:

"It beats me and there's no explaining it but the penny demand is tremendous. Just a short time ago we had tremendous stores—pennies to a value of 75 million dollars right here. That backlog is gone and the squeeze has been on us for some while."

The mint is now turning out 3½ million pennies a day.

Demo Chairman Urges Continued Probes Of GOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—UP—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler Friday night urged Democratic congressional investigators to continue what he termed their exposure of Republican "deals and dealers in Washington."

He also told a group of young Democrats to expect the GOP to "use the 'smear' technique" against Democratic candidates in the presidential elections next year. Butler said the GOP is "badly split" and will resort to a campaign of "false charges."

At Charlottesville, Va., Thursday night Adlai E. Stevenson indicated that he plans to make foreign policy a major issue in the 1952 campaign if he again wins the Democratic presidential nomination. Stevenson is scheduled to announce his candidacy Tuesday.

Denouncing "military-security diplomacy," Stevenson criticized the Eisenhower administration's handling of the disarmament question, the Middle East crisis and last summer's "summit" meeting at Geneva.

Stevenson, who made an overnight stop in Washington en route to Charlottesville, topped off his capital visit Friday with telephone talks with Butler; former President Truman; Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) and Wesley McCune, former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Stevenson presumably gave the

Pacific Search For Lost Airman Being Abandoned

HONOLULU, Nov. 11 (AP)—Search was abandoned today for a Cincinnati airman whose four comrades survived the perils of bailing out of a stricken Flying Boxcar into the stormy Pacific Wednesday night.

All planes and ships which had participated in the search began pulling out of the area before noon. The Navy said Airman 2e Jerry C. Caywood, radio operator of the C119 which went down on a flight from the mainland to Hawaii, was presumed lost.

The Navy said 17 ships and scores of planes "made a 100 per cent coverage" of the area, covering 5,451 square miles.

The Navy tender Floyds Bay, steaming toward Hawaii with the four survivors, reported today the trouble the men had with their chutes and rafts and disclosed the pilot nearly drowned.

A dispatch said Lt. Donald O. Nelson, Alexandria, Minn., the pilot, had trouble releasing his parachute, was "dragged through the water 15 or 20 minutes" and in the meantime lost his life raft. The Floyds Bay early Thursday located him through his cries for help. He was so weak from nearly 12 hours in the water in his life-jacket that swimmers from the tender had to help him aboard. His present condition was described as good.

Lt. David Hibbard, Pasadena, Calif., the copilot who was rescued shortly after Nelson, had better luck. He made it to his raft. Reported the tender with a touch of whimsy:

"When first sighted, Hibbard was rowing frantically toward the ship using one oar and one size 10½ Air Force issue shoe."

The tender reported that the other two crewmen picked up Wednesday night after about five hours, also had their troubles before rescue came. They were spotted in the dark by the flashlights attached to their life jackets. Airman 1C Harry W. Brinegar, Carleton, Neb., flight engineer, found his life raft faulty and abandoned it, spending four hours in the water in his lifejacket.

Grevemberg Hits Long, Morrison In Oakdale Talk

OAKDALE, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Former state police Supt. Francis Grevemberg today lashed former Gov. Earl Long and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison as "very inconsistent" performers in the Louisiana governor's race.

"One man," he said of Long, "is pledging to keep civil service and when he was in the governor's office before, one of the first acts was to do away with it."

He did not mention Long by name, but Long is the only candidate in the race who has held the office before.

Grevemberg exercised no such anonymity in dealing with Morrison.

He said the New Orleans mayor was campaigning as a pioneer in law enforcement "when everyone who has visited the city knows this is not true."

"Do you think it is possible that he does not know the state police made a great number of raids in the city?"

Grevemberg pledged "continuing war on racketeers, vice and corruption."

Castillo Armas spoke tonight at a banquet honoring him.

The young-looking Central American president, credited with ousting the Communist government from his nation's helm a year ago last June, told a press conference today Guatemala will provide asylum for ex-dictator Juan Peron of Argentina if the deposed leader asked for it and agrees to abide by the laws of the country.

"The policy of our government is an open door to anybody who wants to reside in Guatemala, on condition that he respects the laws of the country.

"If any request was ever made (by Peron) the first thing that would have to be done would be to find out under what conditions he wants to reside in Guatemala," Castillo Armas said.

Asked about the uprising by the Brazilian Army, Castillo Armas said:

"As a general policy, I don't wish to give any opinion on the internal affairs of friendly nations. I don't know what happened today in Brazil.

"But, through the friendships I have had with officers of the Brazilian army, I'm certain the army wouldn't have acted in any way except to defend the vital issues of the country, he said.

Referring to a remark made by a delegate to the recent Inter American Press Assn. meeting to the effect that some Guatemalan government officials are disloyal, Castillo Armas said:

"I would like to know which officials this refers to. As a general rule, all my ministers and officials are working with enthusiasm in the reconstruction of the country. He said there may be exceptions which he doesn't know about.

Castillo Armas said his people now have "absolute liberty and freedom."

Castillo Armas arrived in the United States Oct. 31. Washington was his first stop. He also visited New York City, Denver, Detroit, St. Louis and Houston.

The purpose of the Denver visit two days ago was to give Castillo Armas a chance to talk to President Eisenhower.

He said the President looked in good condition.

"His health looked absolutely perfect. He seemed completely gay and happy," he said.

Castillo Armas spoke to newsmen through an interpreter, Jorge Skinner-Klee, secretary to the president.

If the average reader took a step for each movement of the eyes made in an eight-hour day of reading, he'd walk 33 miles, according to the Better Vision Institute.

Solons Predict Better Relations With Argentina

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay Nov. 11 (AP)—A U.S. congressional group arriving today from Buenos Aires indicated its members expect closer future relations between the United States and the new Argentine government in agricultural matters.

The House Agriculture Subcommittee is seeking new markets for U.S. government-owned surplus farm commodities and studying results of the U.S. foreign technical assistance program in agriculture.

Roberto Mercier Argentine minister of agriculture received the legislators in his office near government buildings which were sprayed with machine gun fire during the June revolution.

Although the exiled former dictator Juan Peron was not mentioned by name he obviously was in the minds of all present when Rep. W.R. Poage (D-Tex) subcommittee chairman said:

"We are hopeful that Argentina can regain its former status as one of the world's great producers of agricultural products. We know that your production has dropped seriously in recent years because of lack of proper incentive for the farmers."

Mercier expressed confidence that Argentina would increase its agricultural output under the present administration. He voiced hope that pending negotiations with the United States will result in sending Argentina edible oils primarily or entirely cotton seed oil.

Mercier also expressed interest in Argentina's getting assistance under the U.S. foreign technical aid program.

Poage told Mercier he would oppose giving Argentina technical assistance which would lead to its increasing production of commodities for sale on world markets in competition with the United States. He cited cotton and wheat as examples.

Insurance Officer Lauds Progress Of Auto Safety

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 11 (AP)—A national insurance leader said today "practical and effective application of proved safety engineering methods" by industrialists would reduce not only insurance premiums but also the cost of accidents.

H. W. Heinrich, superintendent of the engineering and loss control division, Travelers Insurance Co., Hartford, Conn., spoke to the first annual insurance seminar at Louisiana State University.

Some 200 insurance officials, insurance buyers and safety engineers from Louisiana and Texas attended the conference, jointly sponsored by LSU and the casualty and surety division, State Insurance Rating Commission.

Heinrich said for every dollar of compensation and medical expense caused by an accident there were four dollars in other costs.

"It is practicable not only for industry to control its own insurance costs but in addition to cut out of pocket expense to the extent of sums greater than the entire premiums which he is so desirous of reducing," he concluded.

Leon R. Oliver, Boston, vice president of the Employers Group Insurance Companies, said there had been an increasing threat since World War one on the part of government to enter the insurance field.

He said seven states already prevented insurance companies from writing workmen's compensation an write it in a state fund.

Penny Shortage Puzzling To U. S. Mint Officials

DENVER, Nov. 11 (AP)—A mysterious shortage of pennies throughout the nation has caused 11-hour shifts at the U.S. mint here.

Mrs. Alma K. Schneider mint superintendent said today: "It beats me and there's no explaining it but the penny demand is tremendous. Just a short time ago we had tremendous stores—pennies to a value of 75 million dollars right here. That backlog is gone and the squeeze has been on us for some while."

The mint is now turning out 3½ million pennies a day.

Demo Chairman Urges Continued Probes Of GOP

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—UP—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler Friday night urged Democratic congressional investigators to continue what he termed their exposure of Republican "deals and dealers in Washington."

He also told a group of young Democrats to expect the GOP to "use the 'smear' technique" against Democratic candidates in the presidential elections next year. Butler said the GOP is "badly split" and will resort to a campaign of "false charges."

At Charlottesville, Va., Thursday night Adlai E. Stevenson indicated that he plans to make foreign policy a major issue in the 1952 campaign if he again wins the Democratic presidential nomination. Stevenson is scheduled to announce his candidacy Tuesday.

Denouncing "military-security diplomacy," Stevenson criticized the Eisenhower administration's handling of the disarmament question, the Middle East crisis and last summer's "summit" meeting at Geneva.

Stevenson, who made an overnight stop in Washington en route to Charlottesville, topped off his capital visit Friday with telephone talks with Butler, former President Truman; Sen. Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) and Wesley McCune, former assistant secretary of agriculture.

Pacific Search For Lost Airman Being Abandoned

HONOLULU, Nov. 11 (AP)—Search was abandoned today for a Cincinnati airman whose four comrades survived the perils of bailing out of a stricken Flying Boxcar into the stormy Pacific Wednesday night.

All planes and ships which had participated in the search began pulling out of the area before noon. The Navy said Airman 2c Jerry C. Caywood, radio operator of the C119 which went down on a flight from the mainland to Hawaii, was presumed lost.

The Navy said 17 ships and scores of planes "made a 100 per cent coverage" of the area, covering 5,451 square miles. The Navy tender Floyds Bay, steaming toward Hawaii with the four survivors, reported today the trouble the men had with their chutes and rafts and disclosed the pilot nearly drowned.

A dispatch said Lt. Donald O. Nelson, Alexandria, Minn., the pilot, had trouble releasing his parachute, was "dragged through the water 15 or 20 minutes" and in the meantime lost his life raft. The Floyds Bay early Thursday located him through his cries for help. He was so weak from nearly 12 hours in the water in his life-jacket that swimmers from the tender had to help him aboard. His present condition was described as good.

Lt. David Hibbard, Pasadena, Calif., the copilot who was rescued shortly after Nelson, had better luck. He made it to his raft. Reported the tender with a touch of whimsy:

"When first sighted, Hibbard was rowing frantically toward the ship using one oar and one size 10½ Air Force issue shoe."

The tender reported that the other two crewmen picked up Wednesday night after about five hours, also had their troubles before rescue came. They were spotted in the dark by the flashlights attached to their life jackets.

Airman 1C Harry W. Brinegar, Carleton, Neb., flight engineer, found his life raft faulty and abandoned it, spending four hours in the water in his lifejacket.

Grevemberg Hits Long, Morrison In Oakdale Talk

OAKDALE, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Former state police Supt. Francis Grevemberg today lashed former Gov. Earl Long and New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison as "very inconsistent" performers in the Louisiana governor's race.

"One man," he said of Long, "is pledging to keep civil service and when he was in the governor's office before, one of the first acts was to do away with it."

He did not mention Long by name, but Long is the only candidate in the race who has held the office before.

Grevemberg exercised no such anonymity in dealing with Morrison.

He said the New Orleans mayor was campaigning as a pioneer in law enforcement "when everyone who has visited the city knows this is not true."

"Do you think it is possible that he does not know the state police made a great number of raids in the city?"

Grevemberg pledged "continued war on racketeers, vice and corruption."

Teenagers Routed By Woman After Holdup Attempt

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 11 (AP)—Three teen-age youths entered Mrs. Selma Young's laundrette today, the largest announcing, "This is a stickup."

The 50-year-old woman picked up an ash tray hurled at his face but missed.

She reached under the counter with her left hand for a pick handle and began swinging landing three resounding blows on the ring-leader's head.

Schools Receive Audiometer From Bastrop Club

BASTROP, Nov. 11 (Special)—An audiometer for use in the Morehouse parish schools was officially presented recently to S. G. Lucky superintendent of schools and to Walther Hohman, principal of Bastrop High School, by Mrs. Lou Venia Jones, president of Quota Club of Bastrop and Mrs. Minza Rabun, head of the project committee.

This equipment for testing the students for hearing problems was made by Maidco which makes over 90 per cent of America's precision hearing test equipment. The civic club which was chartered in February with the help of Mrs. Helen Agnew, of Monroe, Twenty-First District Governor, chose this project in connection with the Quota International's policy of aid to the hard of hearing. With only 18 members the club has raised the $450 to pay for the audiometer since its formation.

W. E. Bradford, representative of the Audio Phone Company from which the equipment was purchased, was present at the meeting and taught a group of representative teachers from the various parish schools how to use the machine in their respective classrooms.

In a later follow-up program, it is planned that a speech therapist from Northeast College will aid in the program since this phase is an all-important one. The value of testing students comes in the chance to find the children who have trouble hearing so that they can be sent to doctors for care.

The present equipment bought by the Bastrop Quota Club will only check one child at a time, but it is hoped that this in only a beginning and more equipment can be purchased later.

South American Oil Geologist At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, Nov. 11 (Special)—A member of an important South American diplomatic family, George Arze, is an oil geologist in Ferriday.

Arze has had six years of formal and informal education in the United States.

Some time this month, 23-year-old Arze, along with Mr. and Mrs. Don Applegate of Concordia parish, will be host to Arze's mother on her first trip to the United States, and to his aunt, the wife of the Bolivian ambassador to Mexico.

Arze, a personable young man who is now on speaking acquaintance with practically everybody in downtown Ferriday, hopes some day to enter the diplomatic field himself. He has a 20-year-old sister, Beatriz, who is a secretary in the foreign relations office of the United Nations.

His home town is Cochabamba in Bolivia, a mountain region similar to Colorado. There, his father is head of a medical college. Arze's main intention was to get a college education, and in 1948 he entered the University of Texas. He remained there for a year studying geology and has never recovered from his initial amazement at the large scale of life at the university, and the whole state of Texas.

The next year he attended the University of Colorado at Boulder. He found this site very similar to his home, and was impressed with the beauty of his surroundings. He returned to the University of Texas, where he was awarded a scholarship, and he remained there until the summer of 1952 when he began to work.

Arze has been in 40 of the 48 states. His jobs included selling books and Bibles, north of Dayton, Ohio, in house-to-house canvass. He says he did "pretty good."

Arze, who spoke only halting high school English when he came to the United States now has a fluent command of the English language, including Americanisms.

In April this year he got a job with the Donnelly Exploration Company of Dallas, Texas. He worked around Forrest, Miss., and Magee, Miss., first, and recently was sent with a crew to Ferriday.

Arze says he loves small towns. He finds the people very cordial and friendly. "They have more time than city people" he says. A pleasant surprise was discovery of the Applegates, who have spent some years in Bolivia, and in Arze's home town, and were well known to Arze and his entire family.

Arze is now in Austin, Texas, to meet his mother, Senora Rita de Arze, and his aunt (the wife of the ambassador), Senora Emma de Arze. He was in high state of anticipation when he left as he has not been back home except one time since he left there six years ago.

Dubach Plant Unit Finished

DUBACH, Nov. 11 (Special)—A $750,000 expansion program at the Southwest - Feazel gasoline plant here was completed this week.

The UOP platforming unit will enable the plant to upgrade the entire gasoline production to the premium grades in excess of 95 and regular grades of 89 research octane number. Also the plants gas and liquids handling capacity has been increased to the equivalent of 190 million feet per day.

The gasoline plant is jointly owned by the Feazel Interest and Southwest Gas Producing Company, Inc. The Feazel Interest consists of W. C. Feazel, Mrs. Gertrude Feazel Anderson, and G. M. Anderson of Shreveport and Miss Lillie Feazel, of West Monroe.

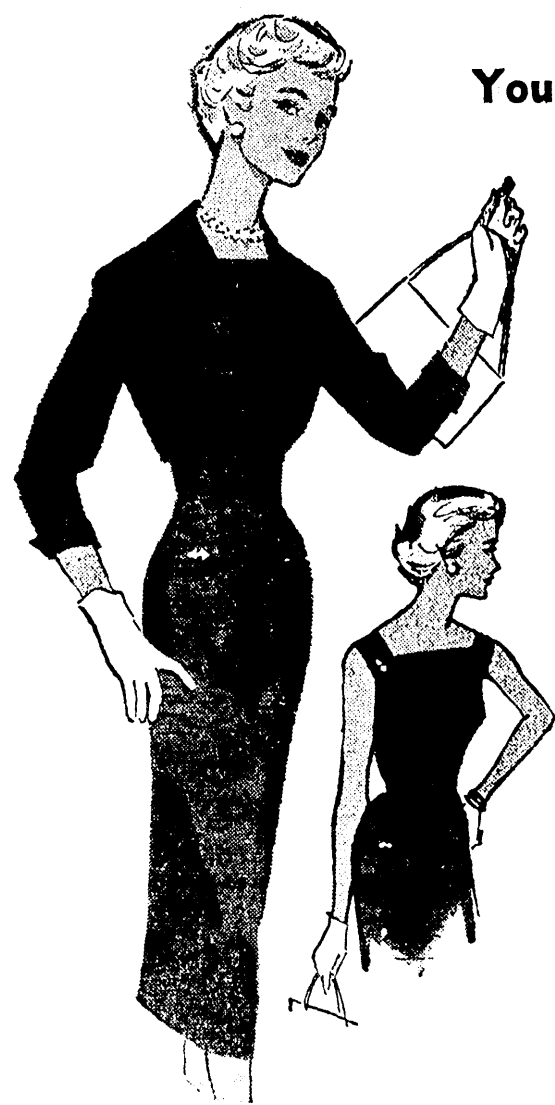

Southwest Gas Producing Company Inc. is the operator of the Dubach Gasoline Plant with general offices in Monroe.

The plant has been in operation since 1949. Gas produced by the plant is transported through 80 miles of gathering system connecting the plant to the Lisbon, Hickman, Dubach, Terryville, North Ruston and Unionville fields of Lincoln and Claiborne parishes. The production from 62 gas condensate wells is transported through this system.

The platforming unit is a modernization feature which will enable the operators to meet the competitive demands for high octane motor fuel.

If We Colonized Mars

A vast new vista has been opened to the millions of adventurous-minded people, who mourn the passing of the frontier.

A distinguished astronomer and leading scientist has verified the existence of a huge blue-green area on Mars, almost as big as the state of Texas. He interprets this as proof that vegetation sprouts out from the great Toth Canal to cover a 200,000 square-mile area, in a hitherto unsuspected seasonal pattern.

This epochal announcement was made by Dr. E. C. Slipher, leader of the 1954 National Geographic-Lowell Observatory Mars expedition to photograph the puzzling planet from South Africa, when it was at a relatively near point to the Earth.

According to Dr. Slipher, these photographic proofs indicate that Mars is by no means a dead world, and that vegetation spreads out from the "canals"—possibly lichens or some other simple form of plant growth.

Now, the fact that the area which the learned astronomer spotted was a little less than the size of Texas will, of course, appeal to all Texans. They do not like to be reminded of anything bigger than their state—for instance, an undivided Alaska as a sovereign commonwealth. Their old-time cattle barons, if alive, probably would have sought learned advice whether lichens would fatten longhorns on a Martian open range. After all, 200,000 square miles, if unfenced, would make a nice pasture.

Just say that Mars is uninhabited by human beings but is habitable, even if a little on the dry side.

What a utopia! How greatly could we impress our clashing ideas and ideals upon it!

Perhaps, for a while, we should let the Texans occupy it as grazing land, and punch it down deep for oil wells; and then, like wildcats, fight ideologically over the spoils of natural resources; and start our endless arguments whether they should be publicly or privately owned.

Perhaps, too, we might briefly on Mars escape the burden of taxation, which engages our labor and time a third of every year; but that would not be for long.

We as first settlers on Mars might be utopians, determined to build a universe based on youth and idealistic dreams; but the inexorable past would arrive with us, and shape our lives and the pattern of our culture.

We might hope to escape the fundamental, never-ending fight between the individualist and the statist, as exemplified today in the cold war, but that would be a vain hope.

Mars, within a few years, if colonized by Earth, in all likelihood would reflect all of the discords of Earth.

Military Justice Given An Overhaul

Air Force Sergeant Robert W. Toth was discharged honorably in 1952; and he went back to a civilian job in Pittsburgh.

A year later, he was arrested by military authorities and charged to face court-martial charges in the slaying of a South Korean civilian.

At the time this happened, many of us wondered, as ex-servicemen, civilians, and in most cases law-abiding citizens, when the long arm of military law might reach out to snake us back to the days and scenes of our military days to answer crimes, real or imagined, in the lands where we had served under the Stars and Stripes.

The case went to the United States Supreme Court, and the court handed down a six-to-three decision saying that Sergeant Toth, having been honorably discharged, cannot be subjected to military trial for any alleged crime committed while he was in the Armed Services.

This is a wholesome decision, reassuring to every ex-serviceman in America. It is a tremendous protection to the millions of Americans who have worn the uniform, and to all who are in uniform today. Lacking such protection, any one of us could be hauled out with no notice, to Korea, or Japan, or Italy, or Germany, or spots all around the world, answering to alleged or mythical crimes, real or imagined; and denied every constitutional right of American citizens.

The fact that some American armed service collaborators may be freed of criminal liability by this decision is beside the point. The Armed Services acted foolishly in giving them dishonorable discharges on the arrogant assumption that they could retain jurisdiction over them as civilians.

Ours is a civil government; and whenever the military arrests an honorably discharged member of the Armed Forces and whisks him away to a foreign land for a military trial, then, in the opinion of the Morning World, a grave danger to all of our liberties is involved; and the military becomes an agency of tyranny and oppression, disregarding the civil rights of the people.

Death From A Century-Old Gun

A ten-year-old boy in Clintonville, Wis., was shot and killed two days ago by his thirteen-year-old brother, while rehearsing for a play about Indian wars to be given in the school. The two were to have had parts in the production.

The death weapon was a flintlock rifle described as being at least a hundred years old. The ancient charge of powder, hidden from the eyes of the firearms dealer who had loaned the weapon, and the boys, still reposed in the barrel of the ancient muzzle-loader. The slug, tamped down with wadding, lay in front of the powder. The flint still gave a spark. Even though there was no priming in the pan, the gun went off, with fatal results.

This tragedy should serve as a vivid reminder that firearms, old or new, primitive or of advanced design, are inherently dangerous; and the "unloaded gun" can be the most dangerous of all.

The rule, never point a gun at another person in play, is a sound rule. Its strict observance would save many lives annually.

The Retreat From Adam Smith

Philosophers have a way of writing books which affect decades and even centuries distant from them. The man of action usually assumes that he is the manufacturer of his ideas, but his conduct and his thinking are most often the product of some philosopher who wrote a book. Adam Smith, a Scotch moral philosopher, was such a teacher of men.

Certainly we are now living under the influence of Karl Marx, even those of us who are opposed to his concepts and would go to war over them. Our economies are basically influenced by the ideas of Adam Smith, who published his "Wealth of Nations" in 1776 and effected a revolution, more widespread in its influence than the American Revolution of the same year. It was the period of the beginning of the Industrial Revolution and this thinker became its prophet.

Professor Joseph Mayer of Miami University, writing of the immediate effects of this book, said: "... following the publication of the 'Wealth of Nations' with its individualistic free-enterprise philosophy, onerous governmental restrictions were quickly removed in England, and English industry entered upon such an amazing development that in a few decades that country became without question the leading nation in the world. This is all the more remarkable when it is realized that as late as 1783 France had nearly three times the population of Britain (26 to 9 millions), that France's foreign trade was at the time more extensive ($200 million to Britain's $100 million), and that France possessed all the natural resources essential for a rapid industrial advance."

There can be no question but that Alexander Hamilton laid down the pattern for the American economy was deeply influenced by Adam Smith. At any rate, Smith's ideas dominated American economic thinking until 1933 when the New Deal departed from them and adopted a melange of improvisations in order to avoid both Smith and Marx. In the middle stood John Maynard Keynes, a British economist, who for nearly two decades influenced official American economic ideas and policies.

Both Marx and Keynes, as applied by American policy makers, produced an increased government control of the economic structure with such domination of the flow of money through taxes as virtually to limit individual enterprise and adjust it to a national program. Taxes under this concept were used to redistribute wealth. It was against such ideas in his times that Adam Smith rebelled and thereupon wrote his book. He freed man from the bonds of government control in the economic field. Those bonds have been restored by the implementation of the ideas of Karl Marx and John Maynard Keynes.

The only country in which Keynes has been influential is the United States. Marx's ideas, of course, dominate the Soviet Union and because of the immensity of the area controlled by the Marxists, the ideas affect us all. For instance, one of Marx's fundamentals is that capitalism can be destroyed by the graduated income tax. But Karl Marx could not have conceived of an income tax of the dimensions and cruelty of that imposed upon the American people and continued because of the war preparations which his disciples force upon us. The graduated income tax which Marx said could destroy capitalism tends to grind the middle-class into a proletariat which he anticipated. A classless society can be produced by reducing the initiative of the individual to pull himself out of the proletariat. Those who possess accumulated or inherited wealth benefit by it but large businesses tend to absorb small businesses because of it. This produces a tendency toward monopoly which, in the end, can only lead to increased government control and, ultimately, ownership of the means of production and distribution. Monopoly is a devastating disease among free men; government monopoly destroys all freedoms.

No one has yet appeared on the scene, in this or any country, who has presented an economic philosophy which can reconcile the economic ideas of Adam Smith with the costly social services which a modern democratic government must produce to please the electorate. This is the problem of the Western anti-Marxist countries and it will take a great mind to solve it. That mind is more likely to be housed in an academic philosopher than in a practical businessman or politician. But this is clear, a solution to this particular problem must be found if Marxism is not to prevail.

Budget Will Be Unbalanced

Republican dedication to a balanced budget tends to overlook the possibility that the new upcoming budget for 1957 may be badly out of balance, regardless of which party wins control of the government in the 1956 election.

That would be little more than passing up interest—unbalanced budgets have been numerous in recent years—or if it were not that the federal debt soon will go through the 200 billion dollar ceiling and the United States will hear new talk about inflation.

What has happened is that heavy military spending coupled with continued outlay on nonmilitary projects has built back many projects which the federal government can no longer discontinue, so while the budget for the fiscal year 1956 will be within a billion dollars of balance, that for the following year may show an excess of spending over income of as much as three billion dollars.

That new budget will have been approved by Congress during the 1956 session, before the national elections, so the winner is likely to inherit a little unbalanced balance sheet. Whether Republican or Democratic, the next president will be confronted with a bad situation which can only be improved by cooperation with military expenditures, according to calculations by fiscal experts. The only other way in which increased civil expenditures can be met without an unbalanced budget would be by an increase in federal taxes, and that is deemed impossible by leaders of both parties.

Among the outlays which confront Congress are huge emergency appropriations to help repair storm damage in the eastern United States, an estimated 400 million for a civil aviation program to prepare for the jet age and improve air traffic safety, a highway program of which direct cost to the government may run as high as 50 million—not including the portion to be paid out of gasoline and fuel taxes and at least another other $10 billion for farm price supports. That list will lengthen when Congress reassembles in January. It is now generally accepted that a tax reduction bill will be passed after some debate, but it apparently will have to be passed with the realization that the deficit for the next year will be increased as a result. Deficits in the past have been chiefly for purposes of political argument, but a country which has a 200 billion dollar debt cannot afford to be indifferent to deficits, economists agree.

Congress has cooperated in attempting to keep the budget in balance, but not to the extent Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey would like. For example, 68 public works projects, including dams, flood control works and river and harbor improvements, to cost almost a billion and half dollars, were approved by Congress last year over the opposition of the administration. Some money for most of them will probably be included in the next budget, when it is released in January.

At present the government is engaged in a huge clearance program which runs into many millions and which can hardly be discontinued at the present rate unless Congress should agree that a balanced budget is more important than any improvement program, which is unlikely.

Federal aid to schools is still in the future, but huge expenditures under it are in prospect for a number of years.

Foreign aid, which accounts for at least one-tenth of our national debt, will be continued on a smaller scale, because its proponents say that is essential to the fight against world communism.

Budget making every year becomes more of a proposition of jamming more sand in a bag than the bag will hold.

Congressional Quiz

Score yourself on this quiz. If you can ring up 7 points (out of a possible 12), consider yourself "well informed" on national politics. Each answer is worth 1 point, unless otherwise indicated. Cover the answers following each question with your hand.

Q — Junketing season is almost over. About how many members of congress have traveled — or announced plans for overseas trips — since congress adjourned? 10; 25; 350; 400.

A — There were 151 through Nov. 2, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey. Most popular destinations: Western Europe, Russia and her satellites.

Q — GOP chieftains hope to make further inroads into the traditionally Democratic south next year. For 2 points which one of these southern states has no Republican congressman? Florida, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Texas.

A — Louisiana has none. The others have one each; in addition, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia each are represented by two GOP congressmen.

Q — When the AFL and CIO merge to form one big labor union, the name of the new organization will be — 42 points for filling in the blank correctly.

A — The official name is: "The American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations."

Q — Five possible 1956 presidential candidates silently sport these first or middle names. Identify the candidates and take 1 point for each correct answer: (a) Carey; (b) Davis; (c) Ewing; (d) Millhouse; (e) Talleferro.

A — (a) Sen. Carey Estes Kefauver; (b) Sen. J. (D) President Dwight D. Eisenhower; (c) 1952 Democratic Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson; (d) Vice President Richard M. Nixon; (e) House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D, Texas).

Q — If both the president and vice president should die, who would be next in line for the presidency? (a) secretary of state; (b) secretary of defense; (c) speaker of the house; (d) none of these — new elections would be held immediately.

A — The speaker is next, according to the presidential succession act of 1947. That act revised a law of 1826 under which the secretary of state would have followed the vice president.

Q — Next year the senate will consider a bill, passed by the house in 1955, to change the social security program. Which of these are the bill's major provisions? (a) pay equal social security benefits to everyone; (b) provide hospitalization insurance; (c) pay women retirement benefits at age 62; (d) lower the age at which wholly disabled persons may retire.

A — Score 1 point if you answered either (c) or (d). The bill also would extend social security coverage to most non-covered professional groups.

Q — How many members will the AFL-CIO have after the two unions merge?

A — About 16 million — 10 million from the AFL, 6 million from the CIO. Some critics of the merger have termed it a "labor monopoly," but President George Meany of the AFL answers that he has "no fear" that the new group will wield too much influence.

Q — Who will head the merged AFL-CIO?

A — AFL President Meany is slated to hold the top job, and Walter P. Reuther — now president of the CIO — will become a vice president. An executive council, to govern the organization between conventions, will be composed of the president, 27 vice presidents (17 AFL, 10 CIO), and the secretary-treasurer (AFL).

Q — Where did the Republican ticket fare the best in the south during the last presidential election — in the cities or the farm areas?

A — A Congressional Quarterly

analysis of the characteristics of southern congressional districts shows that in the average district there are a substantial majority to Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, about 34 per cent of the people lived in cities. The strong Eisenhower districts, on the other hand, averaged about 58 per cent in its proportion of city dwellers.

Q — What is the "six-month program" to help build up a strong reserve?

A — It's a training program authorized by congress this year in which some 250,000 men annually between 17 and 18½ years of age could sign up for six months active duty in the armed services. After their six-month stints, the men would be required to serve 7½ years in a ready reserve unit, attending weekly drills and returning to active duty for 17 days a year. Though the program hasn't gotten very far to date, government officials hope it will speed up enlistments by young men who would otherwise have to serve two years on active duty as draftees.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Marsha was shocked when she was suddenly informed that she was an adopted child. But you foster youngsters should be delighted, for no adopted child is ever picked unless its new parents WANT it and LOVE it. It is a mark of distinction, therefore, to be adopted!

Case #390: Marsha M., aged 14, is a high school freshman. "Dr. Crane, I am very unhappy," she began, "and that is bringing my school marks down."

"I used to get straight 'A' grades,"

but now I am lucky to rate a 'B'.

"And it all started last year when my mother told me I was adopted. It was such a shock to me!"

"I never dreamed they weren't my REAL parents! And it has made me uncertain and unhappy ever since."

"At times I get cross and strike back at them. And I feel that I have been cheated, so I don't care much what becomes of me."

You foster children must remember that your Daddy and Mother "adopted" each other when they decided to get married.

They weren't of any blood kinship at all. And they were probably total strangers until shortly before their wedding.

But since that "adoption," which we call marriage, they have felt closer to each other than they have to their own flesh-and-blood brothers and sisters.

Just check on that fact closely and you will see for yourself. For a husband and wife are much more akin than they are to their own brothers and sisters.

Well, when a man picks an unrelated young woman to be his wife, just because he loves her and wants to support her for the rest of his life, that represents the very highest kind of kinship.

It indicates a spiritual affinity that far transcends mere blood relationship. Please remember that Cain killed his bloodbrother Abel, so there is no magic in "blood" kinship.

Blood relatives will cheat and even kill you unless there is ALSO the spiritual kinship of true love. That spiritual kinship is thus the only one that really counts. So I told Marsha that her Daddy not only "adopted" her mother when he married her, but he likewise adopted Marsha as a baby.

He did it not because he had to do so, nor because an unexpected pregnancy forced a new baby upon a feuding married couple.

No, he picked her deliberately because he WANTED her. He loved her. And to prove his love, he has supported her as well as his income has permitted, for the past 13½ years.

Her mother, too, selected her because of similar love and a positive DESIRE to have her for a daughter. So it is really a greater honor to be an adopted child than to be one of the usual variety.

Millions of babies are born to parents who begrudge their arrival. Every physician knows many cases of wives who have tried to have abortions to get rid of unwanted pregnancies.

So a great many children not only aren't intended and aren't desired, but they are resented by their parents when they do arrive.

Adopted children, however, are definitely NOT in that class! Nobody adopts a child without WISHING to do so.

As a result, you adopted youngsters better get wise to the facts and be unusually grateful that you are foster children. You are fortunate.

For that label automatically indicates your parents loved you and wanted you.

Even if they grouch at you now or scold you and find fault occasionally, what do you suppose other parents do to their youngsters?

All parents try to correct and improve their children because they want you to succeed. But foster parents usually are better parents than the other type, so reciprocate their devotion and kindness.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Their old-time cattle barons, if alive, probably would have sought learned advice whether lichens would fatten longhorns, on a Martian open range. After all, 200,000 square miles, if unfenced, would make a nice pasture.

Just say that Mars is uninhabited by human beings but is habitable, even if a little on the dry side.

What a utopia! How greatly could we impress our clashing ideas and ideals upon it!

Perhaps, for a while, we should let the Texans occupy it as grazing land, and punch it down deep for oil wells; and then, like wildcats, fight ideologically over the spoils of natural resources; and start our endless arguments whether they should be publicly or privately owned.

Perhaps, too, we might briefly on Mars escape the burden of taxation, which engages our labor and time a third of every year; but that would not be for long.

We as first settlers on Mars might be eutopians, determined to build a universe based on youth and idealistic dreams; but the inexorable past would arrive with us, and shape our lives and the pattern of our culture.

We might hope to escape the fundamental, never-ending fight between the individualist and the statist, as exemplified today in the cold war, but that would be a vain hope.

Mars, within a few years, if colonized by Earth, in all likelihood would reflect all of the discords of Earth.

Military Justice Given An Overhaul

Air Force Sergeant Robert W. Toth was discharged honorably in 1952; and he went back to a civilian job in Pittsburgh.

A year later, he was arrested by military authorities and snaked to Korea, to face court-martial charges in the slaying of a South Korean civilian.

At the time this happened, many of us wondered, as ex-servicemen, civilians, and in most cases law-abiding citizens, when the long arm of military law might reach out to snake us back to the days and scenes of our military days to answer crimes, real or imagined, in the lands where we had served under the Stars and Stripes.

The case went to the United States Supreme Court; and the court handed down a six-to-three decision saying that Sergeant Toth, having been honorably discharged, cannot be subjected to military trial for any alleged crime committed while he was in the Armed Services.

This is a wholesome decision, reassuring to every ex-serviceman in America. It is a tremendous protection to the millions of Americans who have worn the uniform, and to all who are in uniform today. Lacking such protection, any one of us could be hauled out with no notice, to Korea, or Japan, or Italy, or Germany, or spots all around the world, answering to alleged or mythical crimes, real or imagined; and denied every constitutional right of American citizens.

The fact that some American armed service collaborators may be freed of criminal liability by this decision is beside the point. The Armed Services acted foolishly in giving them dishonorable discharges on the arrogant assumption that they could retain jurisdiction over them as civilians.

Ours is a civil government; and whenever the military arrests an honorably discharged member of the Armed Forces and whisks him away to a foreign land for a military trial, then, in the opinion of the Morning World, a grave danger to all of our liberties is involved; and the military becomes an agency of tyranny and oppression, disregarding the civil rights of the people.

Death From A Century-Old Gun

A ten-year-old boy in Clintonville, Wis., was shot and killed two days ago by his thirteen-year-old brother, while rehearsing for a play about Indian wars to be given in the school. The two were to have had parts in the production.

The death weapon was a flintlock rifle described as being at least a hundred years old. The ancient charge of powder, hidden from the eyes of the firearms dealer who had loaned the weapon, and the boys, still reposed in the barrel of the ancient muzzle-loader. The slug, tamped down with wadding, lay in front of the powder. The flint still gave a spark. Even though there was no priming in the pan, the gun went off, with fatal results.

This tragedy should serve as a vivid reminder that firearms, old or new, primitive or of advanced design, are inherently dangerous; and the "unloaded gun" can be the most dangerous of all.

The rule, never point a gun at another person in play, is a sound rule. Its strict observance would save many lives annually.

The Retreat From Adam Smith

Philosophers have a way of writing books which affect decades and even centuries distant from them. The man of action usually assumes that he is the manufacturer of his ideas, but his conduct and his thinking are most often the product of some philosopher who wrote a book. Adam Smith, a Scotch moral philosopher, was such a teacher of men.

Certainly we are now living under the influence of Karl Marx, even those of us who are opposed to his concepts and would go to war over them. Our economics are basically influenced by the ideas of Adam Smith, who published his "Wealth of Nations" in 1776 and effected a revolution, more widespread in its influence than the American Revolution of the same year. It was the period of the beginning of the Industrial Revolution and this thinker became its prophet.

Professor Joseph Mayer of Miami University, writing of the immediate effects of this book, said: "... following the publication of the 'Wealth of Nations' with its individualistic free-enterprise philosophy, onerous governmental restrictions were quickly removed in England, and English industry entered upon such an amazing development that in a few decades that country became without question the leading nation in the world. This is all the more remarkable when it is realized that as late as 1785 France had nearly three times the population of Britain (28 go 9 millions), that France's foreign trade was at the time more extensive ($200 million to Britain's $160 million), and that France possessed all the natural resources essential for a rapid industrial advance."

There can be no question but that Alexander Hamilton who laid down the pattern for the American economy was deeply influenced by Adam Smith. At any rate, Smith's ideas dominated American economic thinking until 1933 when the New Deal departed from them and adopted a melange of improvisations in order to avoid both Smith and Marx. In the middle stood John Maynard Keynes, a British economist, who for nearly two decades influenced official American economic ideas and policies.

Both Marx and Keynes, as applied by American political activists, produced an increased government control of the economic structure with such domination of the flow of money through taxes as virtually to limit individual enterprise and adjust it to a national program. Taxes under this concept were used to redistribute wealth. It was against such ideas in his times that Adam Smith rebelled and thereupon wrote his book. He freed man from the bonds of government control in the economic field. Those bonds have been restored by the implementation of the ideas of Karl Marx and John Maynard Keynes.

The only country in which Keynes has been influential is the United States. Marx's ideas, of course, dominate the Soviet Union and because of the immensity of the area controlled by the Marxists, the ideas affect us all. For instance, one of Marx's fundamentals is that capitalism can be destroyed by the graduated income tax. But Karl Marx could not have conceived of an income tax of the dimensions and cruelty of that imposed upon the American people and continued because of the war preparations which his disciples force upon us. The graduated income tax which Marx said could destroy capitalism tends to grind the middle-class into a proletariat which he anticipated. A classless society can be produced by reducing the initiative of the individual to pull himself out of the proletariat. Those who possess accumulated or inherited wealth benefit by it but large businesses tend to absorb small businesses because of it. This produces a tendency toward monopoly which, in the end, can only lead to increased government control and, ultimately, ownership of the means of production and distribution. Monopoly is a devastating disease among free men; government monopoly destroys all freedoms.

No one has yet appeared on the scene, in this or any country, who has presented an economic philosophy which can reconcile the economic ideas of Adam Smith with the costly social services which a modern democratic government must produce to please the electorate. This is the problem of the Western anti-Marxist countries and it will take a great mind to solve it. That mind is more likely to be housed in an academic philosopher than in a practical businessman or politician. But this is clear, a solution to this particular problem must be found if Marxism is not to prevail.

Budget Will Be Unbalanced

Republican dedication to a balanced budget tends to overlook the probability that the new upcoming budget for 1957 may be badly out of balance, regardless of which party wins control of the government in the 1956 election.

That would be of little more than passing interest—unbalanced budgets have been numerous in recent years—if it were not that the federal debt soon will go through the 280 billion dollar ceiling and the United States will hear new talk about inflation.

What has happened is that heavy military spending coupled with continued cuts in non-military spending has held back many projects which the federal government can no longer sidestep. So while the budget for the fiscal year 1956 will be within a billion dollars of balance, that for the following year may show an excess of spending over income of as much as three billion dollars.

That new budget will have been approved by Congress during the 1956 session, before the national elections, so the winner is likely to inherit a highly unfavorable balance sheet. Whether Republican or Democratic, the next president will be confronted with a bad situation which can only be improved by sweeping cuts in military expenditures, according to calculations by fiscal experts. The only other way in which increased civil expenditures can be met without an unbalanced budget would be by an increase in federal taxes, and that is deemed impossible by leaders of both parties.

Among the outlays which Congress are huge emergency appropriations to help repair storm damage in the eastern United States, an estimated 400 millions for a civil aviation program to prepare for the jet age and improve air traffic safety, a highway program of which direct cost to the government may run as high as 50 millions—not including the portion to be paid out of gasoline and fuel taxes—and at least another $1½ billions for farm price supports.

That list will lengthen when Congress reassembles in January. It is now generally accepted that a tax reduction bill will be passed after some debate, but it apparently will have to be passed with the realization that the deficit for the next year will be increased as a result. Deficits in the past have been chiefly for purposes of political argument, but a country which has a 280 billion dollar debt cannot afford to be indifferent to deficits, economists agree.

Congress has cooperated in attempting to keep the budget in balance, but not to the extent Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey would like. For example 68 public works projects, including dams, flood control works and river and harbor improvements, to cost almost a billion and half dollars, were approved by Congress last year over the opposition of the administration. Some money for most of them will probably be included in the next budget, when it is released in January.

At present the government is engaged in a slum clearance program which runs into many millions and which can hardly be discounted at the present stage unless Congress should agree that a balanced budget is more important than any improvement program, which is unlikely.

Federal aid to schools is still in the future, but huge expenditures under it are in prospect for a number of years.

Foreign aid, which accounts for at least one tenth of our national debt, will be continued on a smaller scale, because its proponents say that is essential to the fight against world communism.

Budget making every year becomes more of a proposition of jamming more sand in the bag than the bag will hold.

American women use enough lipstick every year to paint 40,000 barns.

Thy Will Be Done

WHENEVER we ask God to help ... Ourselves or anyone ... Our final words should always be ... "Thy holy will be done" ... Gods hears the smallest prayer we say ... And answers each in turn ... But sometimes His reply is not ... The one for which we yearn ... He gave us life, and only He ... Can guide us on our way ... And only He can know what things ... Are best for us today ... And so if we petition ... Our prayer should be denied ... It does not mean that we are shunned ... And we are turned aside ... God simply wills it otherwise ... As life is lost or won ... And so each prayer we ever say ... Should end, "Thy will be done."

Congressional Quiz

Score yourself on this quiz. If you can ring up 7 points out of a possible 12, consider yourself "well informed" on national politics. Each answer is worth 1 point, unless otherwise indicated. Cover the answers following each question with your hand.

Q—Junketing season is almost over. About how many members of congress have traveled—or announced plans for overseas trips—since congress adjourned? 10; 25; 150; 400.

A—There were 151 through Nov. 2, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey. Most popular destinations: Western Europe; Russia and her satellites.

Q—GOP chairmen hope to make further inroads into the traditionally Democratic south next year. For 2 points which one of these southern states has no Republican congressman? Florida, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Texas.

A—Louisiana has none. The others have one each; in addition, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia each are represented by two GOP congressmen.

Q—When the AFL and CIO merge to form one big labor union, the name of the new organization will be _____ (2 points for filling in the blank correctly.)

A—The official name is: "The American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations."

Q—Five possible 1956 presidential candidates silently sort these first or middle names. Identify the candidates and take 1 point for each correct answer: (a) Carey; (b) David; (c) Ewing; (d) Milhouse; (e) Talaferro.

A—(a) Sen. Carey Estes Kefauver (D. Tenn.); (b) President Dwight D. Eisenhower; (c) 1952 Democratic Candidate Adlai E. Stevenson; (d) Vice President Richard Milhouse Nixon; (e) House Speaker Sam Talaferro Rayburn (D. Texas).

Q—If both the president and vice president should die, who would be next in line for the presidency? (a) secretary of state; (b) secretary of defense; (c) speaker of the house; (d) none of these—new elections would be held immediately.

A—The speaker is next, according to the presidential succession act of 1947. That act revised a law of 1886, under which the secretary of state would have followed the vice president.

Q—Next year the senate will consider a bill, passed by the house in 1955, to change the social security program. Which of these are the bill's major provisions? (a) pay equal social security benefits to everyone; (b) provide hospitalization insurance; (c) pay women retirement benefits at age 62; (d) lower the age at which wholly disabled persons may retire.

A—Score 1 point if you answered either (c) or (d). The bill also would extend social security coverage to most non-covered professional groups.

Q—How many members will the AFL-CIO have after the two unions merge?

A—About 16 million—10 million from the AFL, 6 million from the CIO. Some critics of the merger have termed it a "labor monopoly," but President George Meany of the AFL answers that he has "no fear" that the new group will wield too much influence.

Q—Who will head the merged AFL-CIO?

A—A Congressional Quarterly

analysis of the characteristics of southern congressional districts shows that in the average district which gave a substantial majority to Democratic candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, about 34 per cent of the people lived in cities. The strong Eisenhower districts, on the other hand, averaged about 58 per cent in its proportion of city dwellers.

Q—What is the "six-month program" to help build up a strong reserve?

A—It's a training program authorized by congress this year in which some 250,000 men annually between 17 and 18½ years of age could sign up for six months active duty in the armed services. After their six-month stints, the men would be required to serve 7½ years in a ready reserve unit, attending weekly drills and returning to active duty for 17 days a year. Though the program hasn't gotten very far to date, government officials hope it will speed up enlistments by young men who would otherwise have to serve two years on active duty as draftees.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

Somewhat Casual

It is possible for a dedicated parent to get so close to the day-by-day life of a child as to lose a sense of proportion completely. He asks anxiously, "How did you do in class today? Did you miss? Did you make a note of the question? Have you homework? What did the teacher say about your map? Was it the best? Did you get an 'A' for it?"

Then, still fearful lest this child of his heart is not growing into superior ability and encyclopaedic knowledge, he visits the teacher to ask, "How is my child doing? Couldn't he do better in English?"

"Well, 85 per cent on a test in English is more than good, we think."

"But surely if he was pushed a little he could make it 90? Any pupils in the class getting 90 or above?"

"One. Yes, we have one but he is really unusual."

"Unusual, eh? That's what my son should be. Push him a little." A report card states that Son made a rating of 87.5 in algebra, and 80 in history, and 92 in spelling, and so he is in the top quarter of his class. "But why not on top? What did he miss in history? Surely he knows the rules in algebra. I went over them with him myself. You know I keep very close track on his school work."

Truly conscientious parent! He believes he is doing what any good parent would do for his child if he cared at all. Let's see.

First there is the effect of this pressure on the child. He is anxious and tense during a recitation. He is never in the playground and if this child is a girl, she is the one who wants to stay back in the classroom and study for the next recitation so she will be sure not to "miss." Anxiety and tension never yet helped win the prize. That goes to the well-prepared, seemingly-casual pupil who has never been subjected to pressure.

What the anxious parent seems to overlook is the fact that there is so much more in a school-life day than the test session and the rating. There is life to be enjoyed, tested, experienced in all its various phases. What counts the most in a pupil's growth and development is the EFFECT school life has on him. Is he happier for it? Does he stop in his haste to lend a hand to the slow-moving, perhaplame one, along the way? Does he take a failure as a challenge, or does he take it as a catastrophe? Does he depend on himself more and on others less? What are his values as he lives from day to day?

The inner growth of a child is far, far more important than the ability to name the Presidents in order or the solving of a problem. Let the pressure.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Marsha was shocked when she was suddenly informed that she was an adopted child. But you foster youngsters should be delighted, for no adopted child is ever picked unless its new parents WANT it and LOVE it. It is a mark of distinction, therefore, to be adopted!

Case P-390: Marsha M., aged 14, is a high school freshman. "Dr. Crane, I am very unhappy," she began, "and that is bringing my school marks down."

"I used to get straight 'A' grades, but now I am lucky to rate a 'B'. "And it all started last year when my mother told me I was adopted. It was such a shock to me!

"I never dreamed they weren't my REAL parents! And it has made me uncertain and unhappy ever since.

"At times I get cross and strike back at them. And I feel that I have been cheated, so I don't care much what becomes of me."

You foster children must remember that your Daddy and Mother "adopted" each other when they decided to get married.

They weren't of any blood kinship at all. And they were probably total strangers until shortly before their wedding.

But since that "adoption," which we call marriage, they have felt closer to each other than they have to their own flesh-and-blood brothers and sisters.

Just check on that fact closely and you will see for yourselves. For a husband and wife are much more akin than they are to their own brothers and sisters.

Well, when a man picks an unrelated young woman to be his wife, just because he loves her and wants to support her for the rest of his life, that represents the very highest kind of kinship.

It indicates a spiritual affinity that far transcends mere blood relationship. Please remember that Cain killed his bloodbrother Abel, so there is no magic in "blood" kinship.

Blood relatives will cheat and even kill you unless there is ALSO the spiritual kinship of true love.

That spiritual kinship is thus the only one that really counts. So I told Marsha that her Daddy not only "adopted" her mother when he married her, but he likewise adopted Marsha as a baby.

He did it not because he had to do so, but because an unexpected pregnancy forced a new baby upon a feuding married couple.

No, he picked her deliberately because he WANTED her. He loved her. And to prove his love, he has supported her as well as his income has permitted, for the past 13½ years.

Her mother, too, selected her because of similar love and a positive DESIRE to have her for a daughter. So it is really a greater honor to be an adopted child than to be one of the usual variety.

Millions of babies are born to parents who begrudge their arrival. Every physician knows many cases of wives who have tried to have abortions to get rid of unwanted pregnancies.

So a great many children not only aren't intended and aren't desired, but they are resented by their parents when they do arrive.

Adopted children, however, are definitely NOT in that class! Nobody adopts a child without WISHING to do so.

As a result, you adopted youngsters better get wise to the facts and be unusually grateful that you are foster children. You are fortunate.

For that label automatically indicates your parents loved you and wanted you.

And even if they grouch at you now or scold you and find fault occasionally, what do you suppose other parents do to their youngsters?

All parents try to correct and improve their children, because they want you to succeed. But foster parents usually are better parents than the other type, so reciprocate their devotion and kindnesses.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Sound Finances, Morals For Cities Backed By Preaus

MARKSVILLE, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Fred Preaus, Louisiana governor, said today Louisiana must have financially sound and morally responsible government at local level if it is to continue to prosper.

"We believe good local government, including enforcement of local laws is a basic necessity to our form of government," he told listeners in a tour through central Louisiana.

"For this reason one of the principal planks in our platform calls for all-out assistance to the cities and towns of our state."

"We offer a plan whereby we will not only counsel with them and help them work out their problems, but we will do our very best to see that they have the funds they need."

A. Brown Moore, his running mate, said that as lieutenant governor he will be a "salesman of this state," inducing new industries to move to Louisiana.

Two Injured In W. Monroe Crash

A three-vehicle accident at North Eighth and Mill streets in West Monroe about 1:30 p.m. Friday resulted in two persons being hospitalized and considerable damage to two cars and a pickup truck, according to Chief of Police Jeff Caldwell.

Hospitalized were Mrs. Dorothy Deloria Antley of 214 North Eighth, West Monroe, and G. P. Perkins, of Rayville.

Mrs. Antley suffered extensive lacerations on the face near the eye, her attending physician said. Perkins was placed under observation for possible internal injuries.

Both patients were reported in good condition last night.

The accident occurred, Chief Caldwell said, when Sterling Arsten, Negro driver of Perkins' pickup truck, ran a stop sign when going south on North Eighth, struck the car driven west on Mill street by Mrs. Antley, and knocked a parked car into the curb.

Former Cashier In Wichita Bank Held For Theft

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 11 (AP)—A former cashier at the Wichita National Bank, whom FBI agents said was losing money on the stock market, Friday faced charges of making false entries on bank records totaling $85,601.68.

Charged in the federal court was Marvin Patterson, 40, an active church and civic worker in Wichita Falls.

Patterson was released in $2,500 bond. He entered no plea.

FBI agent in charge W. A. Murphy of Dallas said Patterson's stock market account for the period he is accused of making the false entries, showed a loss of approximately $9,000.

A secret indictment charging Patterson with four counts of false entries was returned Nov. 2 in Amarillo by a federal grand jury.

Bank officials said all money had been returned and no claim was filed by the bank.

Patterson was a steward and Sunday school teacher at Scotland Methodist Church in Wichita Falls. He also was a Boy Scout master and active in Chamber of Commerce and Parent-Teachers Association work.

Keesler Airmen Indicted In Death Of Jackson Man

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Hinds County grand jury today returned murder indictments against two Keesler Air Force Base airmen in the death of a lanky Jackson interior decorator.

The airmen were identified as Warren G. Koehn, 18, of Chicago, and Lawrence E. Burns, 23, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

They were charged with murder in the strangulation death of John Murrett, six-foot, seven-inch native of Silver Creek, N. Y., in a Jackson hotel last summer.

Three other police charged with being accessories were not indicted, but were held in lieu of $2,000 bond as material witnesses.

They are William S. Dougherty, 21, of Houston, Texas; Joseph Fernandez, 17, of New York City; and Joseph Laroco, 19, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Police found Murrett's body in a hotel room, bound hand and foot and gagged with a pillow case. An autopsy revealed he died of strangulation.

The grand jury also indicted C. R. Jones, nightclub operator on a charge of murder in the shooting of Aubrey Yates last September.

Witnesses said Jones shot Yates from under the table as they talked.

Yates died and died in a ditch across the street.

Appellate Court Upholds Entry Of Dr. Anderson

The candidacy of Dr. D. L. Anderson for Ouachita parish corner received affirmation Friday when the Louisiana second circuit court of appeals overruled the decision of the fourth district court here that he is legally qualified.

Although word of the appellate court's decision reached here from Shreveport Friday by telephone, Dr. Anderson's attorney said official notification should reach his office by Saturday.

Dr. J. T. French, incumbent in the corner's race, opposed the candidacy of Dr. Anderson on the grounds that he did not qualify within the 10-day deadline and that the Ouachita parish Democratic executive committee's deadline was not legal. The objection of Dr. French was first filed with the committee and it was overruled.

An appeal to the Fourth District court here brought a ruling against Dr. Anderson, also. The appeal was then made to the court of appeals, which has ruled in favor of Dr. Anderson.

Dr. Anderson's attorney said there can be no further appeals, and that Dr. Anderson is a legal candidate.

The controversial candidate said, "I would like to express my appreciation to the Monroe newspapers for the very informative and detailed manner in which the whole procedure (of the objection and appeals) has been handled, and I would also like to thank the parish executive committee and my attorneys."

Cop-Killer Gets Death Penalty In Chicago Trial

CHICAGO, Nov. 11 (AP)—Cop-killer Richard J. Carpenter tonight was convicted of murder and sentenced to death in the electric chair.

Attorneys for the husky, black-haired Carpenter had asked the jury of eight men and four women only to find him not responsible for his acts because of insanity.

Never during the five-day trial did they deny that Carpenter, 26, shot and killed Detective William J. Murphy in a subway station Aug. 14, while the officer was seeking him for robbery.

But the state had insisted the shooting was cold blooded murder and demanded the death penalty.

Carpenter received the verdict with a stony face. But he began kicking his guards as they led him from the courtroom. He was subdued and was carried back to his cell.

The jury deliberated an hour and 15 minutes in reaching its verdict, ending a trial marked by a variety of exciting courtroom antics by the defendant. He shouted, scratched, kicked and wrestled with bailiffs who guarded him and rolled on the courtroom floor.

He also staged a hunger strike during the trial.

The final day of the trial was typical insofar as Carpenter's behavior went. He struggled violently when guards locked him in the courtroom bullpen during the noon recess for safe-keeping. In the enclosure, he kicked and screamed for 15 minutes, yelling "Help! Help! I didn't sign no confession," and, "They don't know what they're doing."

M'LeMore Urges Aid For Schools

ERATH, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Candidate for governor James McLeMore said today Louisiana has "limped along too long on an inadequate" school system.

He outlined a plan calling for a minimum starting salary of $3,400 for teachers up to a maximum of $6,000 for experienced teachers with masters degrees.

McLeMore, on the segregation issue, charged that members of the U. S. Supreme Court underwent a "brain washing" from propagandists before handing down their segregation decision.

"I cannot," he said, "conceive of the two races fraternizing socially and I do not believe the constitution or Congress ever intended it that way."

Butler Predicts Southern Demos To Rejoin Party

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 11 (AP)—A return to the party fold by rebel Southern states in the 1956 presidential election was predicted here today by Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"I think we will have a solid South in 1956," Butler said at a press conference. "There will be no walkouts in '56 and no occasion for one."

He referred to the 1948 and 1952 party conventions, when delegates from several southern states walked out over a party loyalty oath dispute.

Since the 1952 convention, Butler said, an advisory committee on rules for the 1956 convention has been working on a report dealing with the controversial party loyalty oath. The report already has been approved by such Democrats as ex-Gov. John S. Battle of Virginia, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Stephen A. Mitchell, former party chairman.

Butler said he doubted that integration of the races will be a national campaign issue in 1956, and added:

"I think the Republicans will be hard pressed to find issues in the South in 1956."

North Koreans Barred From UN Committee Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 11 (AP)—The United States charged Friday that the Communists still hold American civilians in North Korea to successfully spearhead a move to bar the Korean Reds from United Nations committee debates as "aggressors."

The UN main political committee voted 44 to 5, with 9 abstentions, however, to invite representatives of free South Korea to attend its meetings on Korean questions.

Col. Ben Limb and seven members of his staff were seated immediately as observers in the political committee chamber.

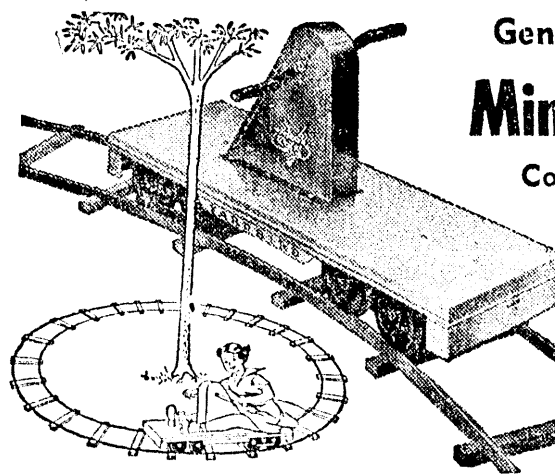

But, the United States and Britain led other western nations in defeating a Syrian proposal which would have invited both the free South and Red North Koreans to attend the debates. The proposal, which was backed by the Communist bloc, was defeated 34 to 14, with 10 abstentions.

North Korea was condemned by the UN in 1950 as an "aggressor" and for the past five years motions to invite the Communists to the annual debate on Korea have been defeated.

Just prior to the vote, Committee Chairman Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand turned down a proposed amendment by Poland's Juliusz Katz-Suchy which would have included the North Koreans in the U. S. proposed invitation to the South Koreans.

U. S. delegate Jacob Blaustein, speaking in the debate, charged the North Koreans again with being "aggressors." He drew a reply from Katz-Suchy in which he accused the United States of introducing "passion and heat" in the debate.

Sound Finances, Morals For Cities Backed By Preaus

MARKSVILLE, La., Nov. 11 (AP)—Fred Preaus, campaigning for governor, said today Louisiana must have financially sound and morally responsible government at local level if it is to continue to prosper.

"We believe good local government, including enforcement of local laws is a basic necessity to our form of government," he told listeners in a tour through central Louisiana.

"For this reason one of the principal planks in our platform calls for all-out assistance to the cities and towns of our state.

"We offer a plan whereby we will not only counsel with them and help them out their problems, but we will do our very best to see that they have the funds they need."

A. Brown Moore, his running mate, said that as lieutenant governor he will be a "salesman of this state," inducing new industries to move to Louisiana.

Two Injured In W. Monroe Crash

A three-vehicle accident at West Monroe and Mill streets in North Monroe about 1:20 p.m. Friday resulted in two persons being hospitalized and considerable damage to two cars and a pickup truck, according to Chief of Police Jeff Caldwell.

Hospitalized were Mrs. Dorothy Deloria Antley of 2416 North Eighth, West Monroe, and G. P. Perkins, of Rayville.

Mrs. Antley suffered extensive lacerations on the face near the eye, her attending physician said. Perkins was placed under observation for possible internal injuries.

Both patients were reported in good condition last night.

The accident occurred, Chief Caldwell said, when Sterling Arsten, Negro driver of Perkins' pickup truck, ran a stop sign when going south on North Eighth, struck the car driven west on Mill street by Mrs. Antley, and knocked a parked car into the curb.

Former Cashier In Wichita Bank Held For Theft

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Nov. 11 (AP)—A former cashier at the Wichita National Bank, whom FBI agents said was losing money on the stock market, Friday faced charges of making false entries on bank records totaling $85,601.68.

Charged in the federal count was Marvin Patterson, 40, an active church and civic worker in Wichita Falls.

Patterson was released in $2,500 bond. He entered no plea.

FBI agent in charge W. A. Murphy of Dallas said Patterson's stock market account for the period he is accused of making the false entries, showed a loss of approximately $9,000.

A secret indictment charging Patterson with four counts of false entries was returned Nov. 2 in Amarillo by a federal grand jury.

Bank officials said all money had been returned and no claim was filed by the bank.

Patterson was a steward and Sunday school teacher at Scotland Methodist Church in Wichita Falls. He also was a Boy Scout master and active in Chamber of Commerce and Parent-Teachers Association work.

Keesler Airmen Indicted In Death Of Jackson Man

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 11 (AP)—The Hinds County grand jury today returned murder indictments against two Keesler Air Force Base airmen in the death of a lanky Jackson interior decorator.

The airmen were identified as Warren G. Koenig, 18, of Chicago, and Lawrence E. Burns, 23, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

They were charged with murder in the strangulation death of John Murrett, six-foot, seven-inch native of Silver Creek, N. Y., in a Jackson hotel last summer.

Three other police charged with being accessories were not indicted, but were held in lieu of $2,000 bond as material witnesses.

They are Willard S. Dougherty, 21, of Hooisick Falls, N. Y., Joseph Fernandez, 17, of New York City, and Joseph Larocco, 19, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Police found Murrett's body in a hotel room, bound hand and foot and gagged with a pillow case. An autopsy revealed he died of strangulation.

The grand jury also indicted C. B. Jones, nightclub operator on a charge of murder in the shooting of Aubrey Yates last September.

Mendes-France Charges Scandal In French Vote

PARIS Nov. 11—UP—The Mendes-France faction leveled charges of a National Assembly "scandal" Friday in its fight to topple the Faure government in Saturday's confidence vote on the elections issue.

Backers of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France charged that the proxy votes of eight absentee deputies had been recorded incorrectly during Thursday's vote on an election reforms project.

They claimed that the action caused the defeat of the reforms, favored by Mendes-France and opposed by Premier Edgar Faure.

The pro-Mendes-France newspaper "L'Express" printed a headline charging a "scandal in the Assembly." It said that "by well-engineered technical maneuvers, the verdict of the nation's representatives has been reversed."

The eight deputies absent from Thursday's crucial session said later that they would have voted differently. Their votes were cast by the monitors of their parties.

Four of the deputies were reported as voting against the reforms and four as abstaining. All said they wanted to vote for the reform.

The final result of the vote was announced Thursday as 298 to 293 against the electoral project. Assembly rules dictate that the original count stands, regardless of subsequent protests.

W. O. Roberts Gives Platform For Police Jury

W. O. Roberts, member of the Ouachita parish police jury from ward 7, yesterday issued his platform of candidacy in the January 17 Democratic primary elections.

Roberts, a resident of ward 7 all his life, has been a police jury member for the past 16 years. He is presently vice - president of the jury, and is chairman of the agriculture committee.

"I am asking for re-election from ward 7 for the next four years," Roberts said, "and if elected I intend to do in the future, as I did in the past, all I can do to serve all of the people in the ward and the parish as a whole."

Roberts, who is married and has four children, expressed the opinion that the present police jury has done a fine job during the past four years.

"I think it takes cooperation from each jurymen to get anything done," he said, "and I certainly appreciate the cooperation of the jurors as well as the state representatives and senator on obtaining better roads all over the parish."

The jurymen said he would continue to support the road program.

Southern Bell Canvassing To Determine Need

FERRIDAY, Nov. 11 (Special)—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company started a rural telephone canvass this week to check the possibility of additional telephone service on Lake St. John in parts of Tensas and Concordia Parishes.

This announcement was made by A. B. Kessler, area manager. H. L. Hale, rural development engineer, has begun contacting residents and businesses of the area. The additional telephone lines would work out of the Waterproof exchange.

Kessler said that if the project proves successful, construction will begin probably in the middle of 1956. He added that he would appreciate any cooperation the residents will give during the telephone canvass in this area.

British Plane May Match Best U. S. Aircraft

LONDON, Nov. 11—UP—Britain Friday announced construction of a new jet-rocket fighter plane that is expected to match the fastest U. S. warplanes.

In a guarded statement, the ministry of supply said the plane was named the SR-53 and is powered by both jet and rocket. It added only that the new craft "has very great possibilities."

The Evening News, however, printed a headline saying the super fighter may have a speed of 1,500 miles an hour.

It was understood the SR-53, being built by Saunders-Roe, Ltd., will be able to climb almost vertically and knock down the fastest of jet bombers. It may be the fighter that replaces the new Hawker Hunter as the chief weapon of the Royal Air Force.

The ministry of supply hinted at the super-speed range that might be expected of the new fighter by disclosing Friday for the first time that Britain has two jets capable of cracking the sound barrier in a climb, an accomplishment claimed by few American planes.

Dortch, Russell Will Face Trial Here November 21

Charles Ray Russell and Lannie Dortch, jointly charged with armed robbery of a poker game here in Monroe several months ago, will be tried before a jury during the final week of the criminal term of fourth district court, beginning November 21.

Dortch and Russell were indicted in September by a grand jury and a third member charged with the crime, Billy Deal, is now serving 27 years at the Louisiana State Penitentiary for this offense and for the robbery of a preacher.

The cases were among those docketed for the jury term of the criminal court that was released by District Attorney Albin P. Lassiter Friday.

Other cases to be tried Monday of week after next include: Frank Walker Jr., charged with two counts of theft of $25 each, and jointly charged with Don Ward on a third count of simple robbery and a fourth offense of simple rape; and Martin P. ### Mendes-France Charges Scandal In French Vote

PARIS, Nov. 11—UP—The Mendes-France faction leveled charges of a "scandal" in the Assembly Friday in its fight to topple the Faure government in Saturday's confidence vote on the elections issue.

Backers of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France charged that the proxy votes of eight absentee deputies had been recorded incorrectly during Thursday's vote on an election reforms project.

They claimed that the action caused the defeat of the reforms, favored by Mendes-France and opposed by Premier Edgar Faure.

The pro-Mendes-France newspaper "L'Express" printed a headline charging a "scandal in the Assembly." It said that "by well-engineered technical maneuvers, the verdict of the nation's representatives has been reversed."

The eight deputies absent from Thursday's crucial session said later that they would have voted differently. Their votes were cast by the monitors of their parties.

Four of the deputies were reported as voting against the reforms and four as abstaining. All said they wanted to vote for the reform.

The final result of the vote was announced Thursday as 298 to 293 against the electoral project. Assembly rules dictate that the original count stands, regardless of subsequent protests.

W. O. Roberts Gives Platform For Police Jury

W. O. Roberts, member of the Ouachita parish police jury from ward 7, yesterday issued his platform of candidacy in the January 17 Democratic primary elections.

Roberts, a resident of ward 7 all his life, has been a police jury member for the past 16 years, is presently vice-president of the jury, and is chairman of the agriculture committee.

"I am asking for re-election from ward 7 for the next four years," Roberts said, "and if elected I intend to do in the future, as I did in the past, all I can to serve all of the people in the ward and the parish as a whole."

Roberts, who is married and has four children, expressed the opinion that the present police jury has done a fine job during the past four years.

"I think it takes cooperation from each jurymen to get anything done," he said, "and I certainly appreciate the cooperation of the jurors as well as the state representatives and senator on obtaining better roads all over the parish."

The jurymen said he would continue to support the road program.

Southern Bell Canvassing To Determine Need

FERRIDAY, Nov. 11 (Special)—Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company started a rural telephone canvass this week to check the possibility of additional telephone service on Lake St. John in parts of Tensas and Concordia parishes.

This announcement was made by A. B. Kessler, area manager. H. L. Hale, rural development engineer, has begun contacting residents and businesses of the area. The additional telephone lines would work out of the Waterproof exchange.

Kessler said that if the project proves successful, construction will begin probably in the middle of 1956. He added that he would appreciate any cooperation the residents will give during the telephone canvass in this area.

British Plane May Match Best U. S. Aircraft

LONDON, Nov. 11—UP—Britain Friday announced construction of a new jet-rocket fighter plane that is expected to match the fastest U. S. warplanes.

In a guarded statement, the ministry of supply said the plane was named the SR-53 and is powered by both jet and rocket. It added only that the new craft "has very great possibilities."

The Evening News, however, printed a headline saying the super fighter may have a speed of 1,500 miles an hour.

It was understood the SR-53, being built by Saunders-Roe, Ltd., will be able to climb almost vertically and knock down the fastest of jet bombers. It may be the fighter that replaces the new Hawker Hunter as the chief weapon of the Royal Air Force.

The ministry of supply hinted at the super-speed range that might be expected of the new fighter by disclosing Friday for the first time that Britain has two jets capable of cracking the sound barrier in a climb, an accomplishment claimed by few American planes.

Miro Book Club Studies The Story Of The Acadians

The semi-monthly meeting of the Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. F. H. McCormick.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. F. L. Smith.

A short business session was held at which time the members decided to support the canteen program of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross in connection with the operation Sargebrush.

The program chairman, Mrs. D. M. Moore presented Miss Frances Flanders and Miss Adeline Wheeler from the Ouachita Parish Public Library. They showed a beautiful colored film "Evangeline Land."

This film began in the year 1755 when the Acadians were deported from Nova Scotia and arrived in the bayou country of Louisiana. Also showing progress through power particularly in the industries of rice, sugar cane and furs.

Mrs. A. B. Myatt reviewed "True Story of the Acadians," by Dudley J. LeBlanc. She explained that the story is a condensed compilation of facts of the history of the Acadians commonly known as "Cajuns."

It begins with the dispute of the ownership of Acadia—or Nova Scotia, as it is now called—between the French and the English, which ended in the deportation of this entire race from their homeland in 1755, and their rebirth in Louisiana.

It is a story of tragedy and of heroism, of hate and of love of persecution and of triumph, she said.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. John B. Filhol, Jr., Mrs. Horace V. Fluker, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Miss Catherine Llaudals, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. A. B. Myatt, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. John Pracher, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell and Mrs. R. L. Wood.

Miro Book Club Studies The Story Of The Acadians

The semi-monthly meeting of the Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. F. H. McCormick.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. F. L. Smith.

A short business session was held at which time the members decided to support the canteen program of the Ouachita Parish Red Cross in connection with the operation Sagebrush.

The program chairman, Mrs. D. M. Moore presented Miss Frances Flanders and Miss Adeline Wheeler from the Ouachita Parish Public Library. They showed a beautiful colored film "Evangeline Land."

This film began in the year 1755 when the Acadians were deported from Nova Scotia and arrived in the bayou country of Louisiana. Also showing progress through power particularly in the industries of rice, sugar cane and furs.

Mrs. A. B. Myatt reviewed "True Story of the Acadians," by Dudley J. LeBlanc. She explained that the story is a condensed compilation of facts of the history of the Acadians commonly known as "Cajuns."

It begins with the dispute of the ownership of Acadia—or Nova Scotia, as it is now called—between the French and the English, which ended in the deportation of this entire race from their homeland in 1755, and their rebirth in Louisiana.

It is a story of tragedy and of heroism, of hate and of love of persecution and of triumph, she said.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

This young girl, inspecting a strand of gray hair, may have a vitamin B deficiency.

Don't Fret Over Grey Hair; But Here's Help If You Do

The question of grey hair pops up over and over again. Recently a mother wrote about her young daughter, just 17, who already has a few white hairs. She asks if anything can be done to prevent more.

There is some indication that a lack of a member or members of the vitamin B family may be one reason for the greying process. If you wish to reinforce your diet with vitamin B you should get the whole family of B's which is called vitamin B Complex. You should consult your doctor as to how much to take.

Inheritance certainly seems to play a part. In this instance the 17-year-old girl's father was completely grey at the age of 30. Outside of good scalp care and good nutrition and emphasis on the vitamin B's I do not know of anything which can be done to prevent greying.

However, it is ridiculous for grey hair to be a source of unhappiness for any woman in this day and age. Actually it is very becoming to many women but, of course, if it bothers you, get rid of it.

Blended If you have only a moderate number of white hairs they can be partly covered and blended so that they are not noticeable and the general effect is brown or black or whatever the natural color may be. There are vegetable rinses which do this most effectively. You can experiment with colors since they wash out with each shampoo.

The vegetable rinses are the only ones which have no dye in them.

Ollie C. Carter Asks Re-Election On Police Jury

A formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the Ouachita parish police jury from Ward 5 was made yesterday by Ollie C. Carter, incumbent.

Carter, a candidate for his second term in the office, has resided outside West Monroe in the same house for about 37 years. He is married and has two children.

"In the past four years we have accomplished much in blacktopping parish roads and if re-elected I will continue to work for the betterment of the parish as a whole and for ward 5 in particular," he said.

Carter has served on a number of special committees while on the police jury.

I am running for re-election on the basis of the work I have done in the past," he said.

Then there are the light dye jobs and then on to the true dyes. The rinses will be effective for many years if they are applied with care. It takes time to apply them correctly, and sometimes operators are in such a hurry that they rush the work.

The time probably will come when the vegetable rinse will no longer cover successfully. Then you will have to decide whether to let your hair be grey or whether to dye it.

You should start using the vegetable rinse before the hair becomes noticeably grey.

If you would like to have my leaflet about hair care send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 "Stars in our Crown." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Textile Workers President Sees Stronger Unions

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 11 (AP)—Emile Rieve, president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, said here today that the approaching merger of the CIO and the AFL will have a strong effect in the sections of the country where organized labor is weakest.

The South—and the South's textile industry—will be an affected area, he asserted.

Rieve, here for a southern regional wage conference Sunday, said that a "more organized drive" can be expected.

"There won't be any 'Operation Dixie,'" he said, "but the combined unions will be a greater force, particularly in the South and in textiles."

"The difference will be," he said, "that we can expect cooperation from the AFL. This will build a greater organized force."

"The textile industry is about 20 per cent or primarily 'unorganized,'" Rieve said, thus falling into the category of one of two or three major unorganized industries in the country.

Boyd E. Payton of Charlotte, the union's southern regional director, said more than 400 delegates representing 75,000 workers will be in attendance from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and the Carolinas.

Tribute Paid To Veterans Of American Wars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover saluted the dead and the survivors of America's wars Friday by pledging the nation to an "eternal quest" for lasting peace.

Speaking at solemn Veterans Day ceremonies before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the white-haired 81st President said "no man came back from the furnace of war who does not pray that war be ended forever."

He addressed a gathering of veterans of four wars in the sunlit Arlington Memorial Cemetery after laying a wreath for President Eisenhower on the gleaming marble shrine where the Unknown Soldier is buried.

Numerous other services were held throughout the country as the nation paid tribute to its fighting men on the second annual observance of Veterans Day, formerly Armistice Day.

Shortly after the 81-year-old former President spoke, the nation's No. 1 veteran—Mr. Eisenhower—came home to the White House after seven weeks of hospitalization in Denver.

Crowds attending various V-Day functions and thousands of other persons in the Washington area a-flocked downtown to give Mr. Eisenhower a rousing "welcome home."

The American Legion marked the day with ceremonies at the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa. Dedicating a legion plaque at the historic site, Interior Secretary Douglas McKay said that wars won by the United States have helped to put an end to armed conflict.

In a V-Day speech at Birmingham, Ala., Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles said "we have good grounds for believing" that another world war can be avoided. The whole world now realizes, Quarles said, that "no nation could resort to war against us and expect to survive the ensuing events."

Hester, and have worked in Kilpatrick Funeral Home as a bookkeeper, since November 14th, 1949, until now.

"If I am elected your sheriff, I will cooperate fully with all branches of law enforcement of city, parish, state or federal. I will render the same service to every one, old or young, rich or poor. I will furnish a new ambulance that will be paid for by me and my deputies. This young girl, inspecting a strand of gray hair, may have a vitamin B deficiency.

Don't Fret Over Grey Hair; But Here's Help If You Do

The question of grey hair pops up over and over again. Recently a mother wrote about her young daughter, just 17, who already has a few white hairs. She asks if anything can be done to prevent more.

There is some indication that a lack of a member or members of the vitamin B family may be one reason for the greying process. If you wish to reinforce your diet with vitamin B you should get the whole family of B's which is called vitamin B Complex. You should consult your doctor as to how much to take.

Inheritance certainly seems to play a part. In this instance the 17-year-old girl's father was completely grey at the age of 30. Outside of good scalp care and good nutrition and emphasis on the vitamin B's I do not know of anything which can be done to prevent greying.

However, it is ridiculous for grey hair to be a source of unhappiness for any woman in this day and age. Actually it is very becoming to many women but, of course, if it bothers you, get rid of it.

Blended

If you have only a moderate number of white hairs they can be partly covered and blended so that they are not noticeable and the general effect is brown or black or whatever the natural color may be. There are vegetable rinses which do this most effectively. You can experiment with colors since they wash out with each shampoo.

The vegetable rinses are the only ones which have no dye in them.

Then there are the light dye jobs and then on to the true dyes. The rinses will be effective for many years if they are applied with care. It takes time to apply them correctly, and sometimes operators are in such a hurry that they rush the work.

The time probably will come when the vegetable rinse will no longer cover successfully. Then you will have to decide whether to let your hair be grey or whether to dye it.

You should start using the vegetable rinse before the hair becomes noticeably grey.

Textile Workers President Sees Stronger Unions

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 11 (AP)—Emile Rieve, president of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, said here today that the approaching merger of the CIO and the AFL will have a strong effect in the sections of the country where organized labor is weakest.

The South—and the South's textile industry—will be an affected area, he asserted.

Rieve, here for a southern regional wage conference Sunday, said that a "more organized drive" can be expected.

"There won't be any 'Operation Dixie,'" he said, "but the combined unions will be a greater force, particularly in the South and in textiles."

"The difference will be," he said, "that we can expect cooperation from the AFL. This will build a greater organized force."

The textile industry is about 20 per cent or primarily "unorganized," Rieve said, thus falling into the category of one of two or three major unorganized industries in the country.

Boyd E. Payton of Charlotte, the union's southern regional director, said more than 400 delegates representing 75,000 workers will be in attendance from Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and the Carolinas.

Ollie C. Carter Asks Re-Election On Police Jury

A formal announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the Ouachita parish police jury from Ward 5 was made yesterday by Ollie C. Carter, incumbent.

Carter, a candidate for his second term in the office, has resided outside West Monroe in the same house for about 37 years. He is married and has two children.

"In the past four years we have accomplished much in blacktopping parish roads and if re-elected I will continue to work for the betterment of the parish as a whole and for ward 5 in particular," he said.

Carter has served on a number of special committees while on the police jury.

I am running for re-election on the basis of the work I have done in the past," he said.

Tribute Paid To Veterans Of American Wars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 —UP—Former President Herbert Hoover saluted the dead and the survivors of America's wars Friday by pledging the nation to an "eternal quest" for lasting peace.

Speaking at solemn Veterans Day ceremonies before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the white-haired 81st President said "no man came back from the furnace of war who does not pray that war be ended forever."

He addressed a gathering of veterans of four wars in the sunlit Arlington Memorial Cemetery after laying a wreath for President Eisenhower on the gleaming marble shrine where the Unknown Soldier is buried.

Numerous other services were held throughout the country as the nation paid tribute to its fighting men on the second annual observance of Veterans Day, formerly Armistice Day.

Shortly after the 81-year-old former President spoke, the nation's No. 1 veteran—Mr. Eisenhower—came home to the White House after seven weeks of hospitalization in Denver.

Crowds attending various V-Day functions and thousands of other persons in the Washington area a flocked downtown to give Mr. Eisenhower a rousing "welcome home."

The American Legion marked the day with ceremonies at the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa. Dedication of a legion plaque at the historic site, Interior Secretary Douglas McKay said that wars won by the United States have helped to put an end to armed conflict.

In a V-Day speech at Birmingham, Ala., Air Secretary Donald A. Quarles said "we have good grounds for believing" that another world war can be avoided. Quarles said, that "no nation could resort to war against us and expect to survive the ensuing events."

Redskins, Wildcats In Gulf Cellular Duel

Northeast Makes Last Home Show With La. College

The battle of the "have nots" in the Gulf States Conference takes place here tonight with the Louisiana College Wildcats and the Northeast State Indians fighting it out to see who can punch the other into the league cellar. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock at Brown Field.

With expected nearly matched eleven, the contest could prove a thriller in this last home stand of the season for coach Devone Payne's Northeast Tribesmen who close out their schedule at Ruston next Saturday against Louisiana Tech, heir-apparent to the Gulf States throne.

Both eleven will be minus one regular for the scrap.

Harold "Sonny" Clark, a player under Payne when the Indian coach was Tallulah High School mentor, is lost as quarterback for the Cats. He underwent a knee operation this week. Charlie Scott, a transfer from Texas A. and M., will replace Clark.

Tackle Sherred McKoin, hurt in the Northwestern game last week, is due to be lost to the Tribe. Ken O'Neal has been targeted as his replacement.

Neither of the opponents has won a G.S.C. battle this campaign. However, the Pinebluffs have lost five to the Indians four. The Monroe gridmen have a better over-all record with three victories in eight starts as compared to only two wins and five set-backs for the Cats.

Mentor Payne's cohorts have licked Delta State of Cleveland, Miss., 7-0, Western Kentucky, 17-9, and Alabama Teachers College of Livingston, 25-13. On the other hand, they have taken terrific licks from Southeastern Louisiana by 40-0, from McNeese by 35-0, from Northwestern by 27-7, and from Southwestern Louisiana by 26-6.

So, Saturdays encounter should find two rather evenly-matched eleven battling it out to escape the G.S.C. cellar for 1955. Additional color is lent to the tie because of the fact that Payne coached at least half of the L. C. squad in 1953 before taking the Northeast job in '54.

Payne himself is an ex-Wildcat gridiron star and an L. C. alumnus. The Orange and Blues leaves Pinebluffs for Monroe this afternoon at 1:30 via special bus. They will return to the campus following the game Saturday night.

L. C. athletic director Jimmy Keith announced that he will take 35 men on the trip. These include Coach J. Scott, Lloyd Bourdhan, Mack Mobley, Jerry Baggett, Eugene Southern, Billy Stephens, Marshall Ryan, Tommy Bankston, Herman Sullivan, and Keith Pierce, backs; Douglass, Starr, Glen Evans, Walter Karr, Frank Cheek, Bob and Rudolph Wyatt, Frank Thrasher, Bullock, Griffith, Milner, Tommy Smith, Barney Hart, Harry Thompson, Tommy Acerra, Ho Herring, James Jossick, Jimmy Trotter, Tommy Francis, and Donald Grant, fullbacks.

Probable lineup: Louisiana College—Jossick and Grant, ends; Thompson and Evans, tackles; Hart and Cheek, guards; Herring, center; Scott, quarterback; Mobley and Southern halfbacks; Bankston, fullback. Northeast—Billy Laird and Joe Driskill, ends; O'Neal and Francis, tackles; Jimmy Berry and C. J. Melancon, guards; Sammy Moore or Dalton Smith, center; Everett Reynolds, quarterback; Aubrey Walters, half; Benny Franklin, right half; Mack Powell, fullback.

Tallulah Pastes Lake Providence By 26-23 Margin

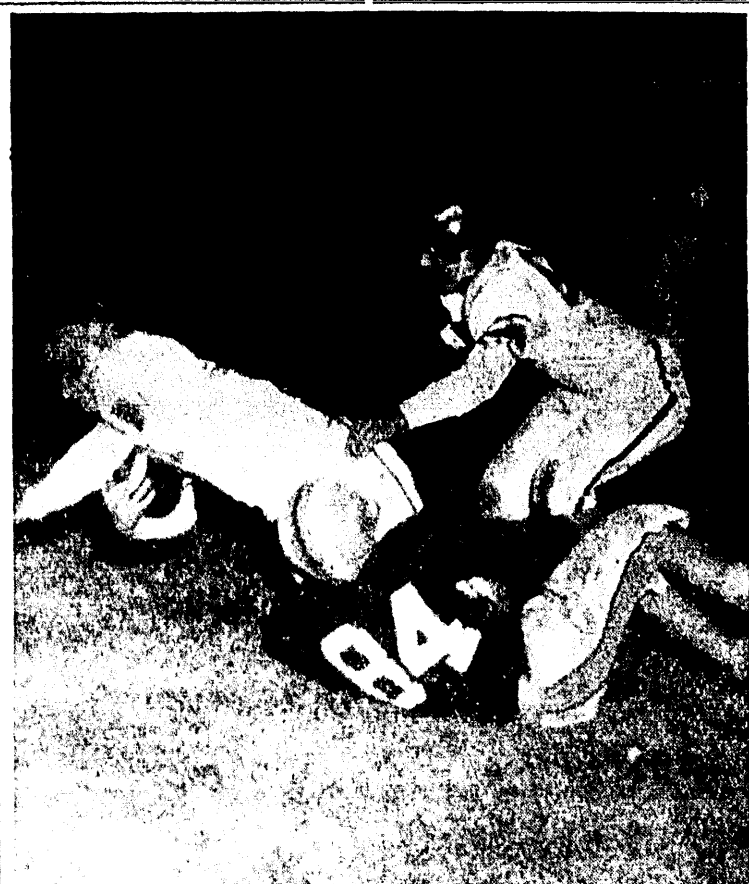

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Tallulah High Trojans, still with a shot coming at the Ferriday Bulldogs, counted themselves still in the district title Class A race tonight by sidestepping the Lake Providence Panthers, 26-23, in a renewal of old rivalry. It was homecoming for the Trojans.

The Panthers drew first blood when Harold Thomas ripped off a 31-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, and Robert Earle kicked the point. Lake Providence sent Albert Surles on a 41-yard sneak to paydirt in the second period, with Earle again converting.

But the Trojans stormed Lake Providence for three touchdowns in the second quarter when Raymond Russell climaxed a 65-yard march with a five-yard plunge, Lynn Naylor raced over from the ten after the Trojans got possession of a Panther fumble, and Russell followed with his second touchdown drive. Stoney Williamson converted twice to lead Tallulah a 20-14 edge at the half.

The rest of the scoring was jammed into the third quarter. A blocked Tallulah punt in the end zone gave Lake Providence two points on a safety, and Thomas zoomed 39 yards for a touchdown, with Earle converting to end the Panther scoring.

Danny Newman plunged from the two after a 45-yard Trojan drive for Tallulah's clinching touchdown in one of the most thrilling games of the Panther-Trojan series.

Schoolboy Title Chases Move Nearer Settlement

Florida's Tempest Casts Big Shadow Over Vol Scramble

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 11 (AP) — Nearly 40,000 customers in Florida will tomorrow be watching to see how Florida's football team reacts in this homecoming game against Tennessee to a tempest that blew around Coach Bob Woodruff this week.

Woodruff came out of the storm in good shape — firmly backed by the head of the Alumni Association and by many sports editors over the state — after an undercurrent of criticism burst into the open through a sports column written in Gainesville.

If there was a beginning of a movement to buy up the last year of Woodruff's ($17,000) a year contract, as sports editor Johnny Hendrix of the Gainesville Chronicle wrote, it was not in the open. Fred Kent, chairman of the board of control, said such an action had never been considered, formally or informally, although many persons had suggested a coaching change to him.

Woodruff, who called Hendrix's claims vicious rumors in one of his strongest statements of six years at Florida, said he didn't want his players to feel they had to win any game to save his job.

Nevertheless, most Florida fans are expecting the combination of the ruckus, the homecoming incentive and the Gators' second-half comeback victory over Georgia last week to spur the Gators to their peak performance.

There is a feeling this team has never "jelled" and has fallen short of its potential with four victories in seven games. The Gators averaged last year's losses to Louisiana State and Georgia but in turn lost to three Southeastern Conference powers they whipped last year — Georgia Tech, Auburn and Kentucky.

Those three defeats knocked Florida out of the SEC championship race. Tennessee still has an outside chance at the title with one victory, one loss and one tie.

The tie last week with Georgia Tech gained the Vols much in increased respect and an even chance to beat Florida.

Costa Gets Decision Against Joey Lopes

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP) — Clever Carmelo Costa raked Joey Lopes with quick eye-catching flurries and shook off his opponent's heavier punches tonight to win a unanimous decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden.

The 21-year-old Brooklyn boxer ranked No. 4 challenger to the Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler, closed with a rush as Lopes appeared to tire under his own forcing pace. There were no knockdowns although Costa slipped down in the fourth. Referee Al Berli ruled a slip and no knockdown although the timekeeper had counted two.

Convicted Boxer, Joey Giardello, On Parole

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 (AP) — Joey Giardello, 24-year-old Philadelphia onetime middleweight contender today was freed from prison on parole after serving three months and three weeks on an assault charge.

Giardello had been sentenced to six to 18 months for beating a south Philadelphia gasoline station attendant in a brawl in October, 1954.

Races for district championships have reached the crucial stages in three Louisiana prep football classes.

Class double-A got the jump on classes A and B, with four of the seven district titles already claimed.

Already crowned champions are Bossier City in district 1AA, Neville of Monroe in 2AA, delidder in 4AA and Cathedral in Lafayette in 5AA.

Here is how the other districts look:

3AA: Winnfield and Jena, which played last night, are the top contenders.

4AA: Morgan City and New Iberia will settle things in their Nov. 25 game.

5AA: Reserve and Behrman meet on Sunday and Reserve can take the title with a victory. Behrman can tie Reserve for the crown by winning the contest.

Most of the class A titles will be decided next week, with the districts shaping up this way:

1A: Homer and LaSalle of Olla are the leaders and if a playoff is necessary will meet in Olla next week.

2A: Ferriday is the leader, but three other teams could throw the race into a complicated tangle.

3A: The Bunkie-Marksville game last night settled this one.

4A: West Lake can sew it up by beating Leesville next week.

5A: Franklin — St. Martinville game last night was the big one.

6A: Baker and Gonzales will play for the title next week.

7A: Buras and LaRose-Cutoff will play off a tie.

8A: Amite and Baton Rouge Re-democrat will break their tie next week.

Things were not as well defined in class B. The picture:

1B: Logansport is the leader, but Sapeta needed only to beat Houghton last night to keep a perfect record.

2B: Delhi can clinch it with a victory over Monroe Southside next week.

3B: Sicily Island needed a victory over Newellton last night to win it.

4B: Eastern half: St. Edmund of Eunice and Cottonport are the top teams.

5B: Western half: Basile has clinched the race.

6B: Breau Bridge needed only a victory over Carencro last night to clinch it.

7B: St. Amant finished unbeaten, but St. Francis of Houma can do the same by beating St. James next week.

8B: The New Orleans area crown will go to next week's Sacred Heart-Holy Name winner.

9B: Clinton can win the title by beating Dutchtown next week.

10B: The Carroll High Bulldogs celebrated homecoming before one of their largest crowds here last night by defeating Central High of Natchitoches, 25 to 0.

Stunned by the Bulldogs' consistent aggressiveness, the Central Gophers could not find a defense capable of stopping the Carroll thrusters, led by end Willie Blade and fullback Elijah Johnson.

Johnson scored first after a pair of 20-yard runs, and romped for another in the second period with Thurman Long converting for a 14-0 lead at the half.

Two more touchdowns came in the last half.

Rebels Lose To Kats, 20-12

Winnsboro Falls To Delhi Bruins By 22-0 Margin

DELHI, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Delhi Bears, considered a cinch to reclaim their district two Class B championship, exploded for three touchdowns in the final quarter here tonight to defeat the Class A Winnsboro Wildcats, 22 to 0.

The Bruins had nursed a 2-0 lead for three quarters, from the time Denon Jones was downed behind his won Winnsboro goal after taking a punt in the first quarter, until they cut loose to sew up the game with three fast touchdowns.

Downing a Wildcat punt on their own 39 the Bruins hammered to the Wildcat 17. Then Buster Harrell fired a payoff pass to Jimmy Hopson. Bobby Leach kicked the extra.

Tommy Mathieu, Delhi's leading scorer, then grabbed a Winnsboro fumble on the Wildcat three and went over for the TD. Leach again kicked the point.

Travis Richards went off tackle from the seven for the final Delhi touchdown.

McNeese Taking On Southeastern For Second Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

McNeese State and Southeastern Louisiana battle Saturday to see who is the best of the also-rans in the Gulf States Conference football race.

Although not mathematically eliminated, neither team has much of a chance to overtake Louisiana Tech, which shut out both McNeese and Southeastern, needs only a victory over sixth place Northeast State next week to win its first undisputed GSC crown since 1949.

So the McNeese-Southeastern game looks like a scrap for second place. While McNeese hasn't lost since its 14-0 defeat by Tech five weeks ago, Southeastern is trying to end a four-game losing streak.

The game will match some of the top GSC ground gainers, McNeese uses Jesse Castelle and Ray Simmons extensively while the Southeastern power comes from Mickey Catalano and Ed Welch.

While the lower-ranked squads are knocking each other around, front runner Louisiana Tech, unbeaten in GSC play, goes out of the conference to take on Austin College.

In other GSC games, Louisiana College and Northeast State fight to put each other into the cellar, and Northwestern meets Southwestern Louisiana Institute as both try for third place.

Jena Takes Big Conference Win Over Winnfield

WINNFIELD, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Jena High School Giants remained the only unbeaten team in district three double-A conference play tonight by topping the Winnfield Tigers, 27-7, and needs only to whip Natchitoches next week to sew up the title. A Natchitoches win, however, would throw the league race into a three-way tie.

James Veach galloped 42 yards to send Jena ahead tonight in the first quarter, and the Giants bagged two more touchdowns in the second quarter on an eight-yard touchdown pass, Tommy Thompson to Pat Druett, and an eight-yard dash by Ronald Manchester.

Manchester bagged the final Jena touchdown on a four-yard plunge in the last period. Richard Bridges converted behind all but the first Giant Touchdown.

John Harrington gave partisan Winnfield fans a thrill in the final period when he took the kickoff following Manchester's second score on a 90-yard touchdown romp. Harrington also converted.

Marion's Cagers Trounce Bernice In Twin Feature

MARION, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — Marion High School basketball teams continued to show their early season steam tonight with a sweep of a double header with Bernice High. Coach Glen Post's Marion quint won its eighth in nine games, 44-36, and the Marion girls won their seventh in nine, 35-18.

Gray Bashier swished the nets for 21 points in leading the Marion boys to victory while James and Boyd Fowler contributed eight each. Lowry, with 14 points, and Green, with nine, sparked the Bernice quintet.

The Bernice girls followed the lead of Andrews' 24 points to sink the visitors. Upshaw added seven points to Marion's cause. Elliott and Farrar led Bernice scoring with five and four points respectively.

The Bossier City Bearkats, aided by eight West Monroe fumbles, half of which they recovered, defeated the Rebels at Brown Stadium last night, by a 20-12 margin.

But for the first minute of the opening half, the first two of the second, and a pass interception, it might have been 12-0. The Rebs outplayed their Shreveport visitors, racking up 11 first downs to their six, and penetrating deep on every drive.

They were outgained in rushing yardage, but a (40-yard) Bossier City run and a sustained drive in the last quarter piled up the yards from scrimmage for the Kats.

On the first play of the game after Bossier had kicked off, the Rebs lost the ball on a fumble, and two plays later the Green and White had scored, with fullback James Gault, the Kats' offensive leader all evening, breaking loose for 19 yards and the tally. Charles Stevens kicked the first of his two placements, and his team led, 7-0, before the fans hardly had time to settle in their seats.

West Monroe took the ensuing kickoff and marched to the Bossier, 9, with Eugene Thrasher and Mack Hunt gaining most of the yardage. Another fumble, with Bossier recovering, halted the drive, but a high pass from center to the Bearkat kicker on fourth down gave the Rebs possession on the five. Four plays, with two fumbles recovered by the fumbler, kept West Monroe from moving into touchdown-land, and the Kats took over again on the nine as the first period ended.

Early in the second, Rebel end George Smith, who played an outstanding defensive game all evening, tackled the Bossier punter on his three after another had passed from center, and Sonny Odom plunked across in two tries.

However, the West Monroe pass from center was high on the placement try, and Robert Perkins was tackled short of the final stripe when he had to run it, which gave the Bearkats a 7-6 lead at half-time.

They scored soon after the second half kickoff, when quarterback Buddy Laughlin returned the Rebs kick from his own two to the West Monroe 25, where he was brought down by Billy Hughes, the last Rebs defender.

In four plays they had scored again, with John Mercer scoring on a 17-yard dash. The placement kick for point was wide, and it was 13-6.

Driving from their own 36 just before the period ended, with Johnny Marzula and Hughes ripping off large chunks of yardage, and Thrasher contributing 14 and Hunt 12, the Rebels moved to the Kats' five, from where Hughes skirted the end for the TD, to make it 13-12. Again the center pass on the try for point kick was high, and Wayne Hendricks, the kicker, had to leap high for it. He attempted a hasty dropkick, and only missed by inches when the ball caromed off the crossbar.

A pass interception by Gault late in the quarter led the verdict for Bossier. He snared Hunt's loss on West Monroe's 30, and carried to the 15. They moved to the 12, and Laughlin scored from there on an end run.

The lineup:

West Monroe Ends: G. Smith, B. Smith, Ramsey, Gaster, McMullan, Lee, Brasher. Tackles: Davis, Fordham, Webb, Lawson. Guards: Watson, Chapman, Monzon, Cotton, Eaves. Centers: Hendricks, Vessels. Backs: M. a. z. u. l. a, Huntsman, Hughes, Hunt, Malmay, Perkins, Bass, Thrasher, Odom, Ford, Howze.

Bossier City Ends: Scroggins, Bell, L. Baldwin, Widbur, Dalrymple, Blackburn. Tackles: Connors, Forbis, Preston Davis. Guards: Norman, Almond, Procell, Thorn. Centers: Harbuck, Stevens. Backs: Laughlin, Mercer, Montalbano, Gault, Covert, Davis, Howard, T. Baldwin, Shewmaker, Nattin. Scoring

By quarters: West Monroe ..... 0 6 0 6—12 Bossier City ..... 7 0 6 7—20 West Monroe touchdowns: Odom (p); Hughes (5-run). Bossier City touchdowns: Gault (19-run); Mercer (p); Laughlin (12-run). Conversions: Stevens 2 (placements).

Officials: Referee, Holloway; Umpire, Youngblood; Head linesman, Green, Field judge: Smith; Timer, Bendel.

LaSalle Notches Win No. 10; Many Beaten, 28 To 7

OLLA, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The unbeaten LaSalle High Tigers of Olla notched their tenth victory of the season in their last scheduled game tonight by knocking off Many High, 28-7, to assure Coach Phillip White's Bengals of a place in the Class A title playoffs.

Whether or not LaSalle had clinched the district title depended on reports from the St. John's of Shreveport — Homer game. A Homer loss would assure LaSalle of the district crown, but a Pellican win would force a district playoff here next Friday.

After a scoreless first quarter, LaSalle put glory into its homecoming program with 14 points in the second period when Ken Winberry fired a pass to Jay May for a 30-yard scoring play, and Julian Keene plover over from the one after a pass interception by Bud Brady and a Winberry pass to Keene had set up the one-yard plunge. Winberry and Keene each added a point in the period.

William Moody charged in to jar the Many quarterback loose from the ball in the third quarter, and Jay May covered the fumble deep in Many territory. Winberry ran the ball over and also converted. Winberry added the last Tiger touchdown in the fourth period on a 20-yard run, and Keene converted Many's lone TD came on a long pass from Jerry Brown to Charles Hayes, and Brown passed to Charles Byrd for the point.

Rayville Hornets March Over Oak Grove, 32 To 13

OAK GROVE, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Rayville Hornets came up off the bottom in the district Class A race tonight to score their first in five conference clashes as they downed the Oak Grove Tigers, 32-13, for their fourth conference loss.

Rayville scored in all but the second period with Cary O'Neal opening the parade with a 20-yard touchdown dash for the Hornets. O'Neal counted again on a 30-yard jaunt, and capped this night's work by taking a fourth quarter pass from George Greer to paydirt. O'Neal also converted twice.

Other Hornets touchdowns came on a 40-yard run by Charles Johnson, and an eight-yard dash by Bobby Weaver.

Oak Grove cracked over two touchdowns in the fourth period when Gene Gammill went over from the ten, and Jimmy Bradley, who converted behind Gammill's tally, raced over from the five.

The host Tigers made 12 first downs to 11 for Rayville.

Oak Grove showered Rayville with passes, completing 18 out of 30 passes and having two interceptions. The Hornets completed three of 11 passes.

'Uninvited' El Chama 1st By Head In International

By JOHN CHANDLER

LAUREL, Md., Nov. 11 (AP) — South America jumped into the winner's circle of the $65,000 Washington, D.C., International global thoroughbred classic today when El Chama from Venezuela defeated Prendase, from the same country by a head before a roaring record crowd at Laurel Park.

It was a pulse-stopper from flag fall at the walkup start to the exciting finish of the mile and half race contested by thoroughbred stars from seven nations. The best the United States could show was a third place for Social Outcast, the 2-1 favorite.

The result was tremendous not only for the Latin neighbors down below the equator, but for El Chama's owner, Dr. Carlos Vogel-Rincones, master of the El Rio Stable.

Rincones paid his own freight for the fourth running of the colorful grass course classic that is a challenge for horseflesh accepted by the leading racing stables of the world. Laurel normally shells out the expenses to fly foreign steeds to its beautiful tree-lined course.

Prendase, owned by Jose Federico Siccardi, copped the Clasico Simon Bolivar, Venezuela's biggest race, Oct. 30, and El Chama was third. When Prendase was invited to the International, Rincones immediately called Laurel President John Schapiro that he thought he had the best horse and offered to pay his own way to get in the scramble. He got a gold edged invitation, flew up on the same plane with his rival, and the answer will go down in the records of one of sporting's greatest contests.

Four countries have won the race and this was the first for a South American. Wilwyn won for England in 1952. Worden for France in 1953, and Fisherman carried the stars and stripes of the U.S. to victory last fall.

The crowd of 32,450, besting the 31,100 record for the 1953 race, thought so little of El Chama's chances that they let him get away at a sweet $41 for $2 win mutual. The bay 4-year-old Venezuelan had been coupled in the mutual field with Canada's representative, the Alberta ranches' Prefect 2nd, since with only 12 tote board numbers, they had to bet in that thirteenth horse race.

So, a bet for either nation produced the grave. El Chama paid $16.20 to place, and $7 to show.

Prendase returned $20.80 to place, and $10.40 to show, while Social Outcast was $3.60 to show. El Chama, who won six of his last eight races in his native land, was given a great ride by jockey Raul Bustamante, a Chilean who has been the leading rider in Venezuela for the last three years.

The winner was clocked on a turf course made soft by overnight rain in 2:36.15, compared with the track record of 2:30.45 made three years ago by Wilwyn.

Social Outcast, owned by Alfred Vanderbilt, made a great run from next to last place. For a moment it appeared he and jockey Eric Guerin might make the grade. But Bustamante was whipping El Chama furiously and jockey Angel Gutierrez was doing the same for Prendase as they flashed down to the wire.

The photo showed a head victory for El Chama, while Prendase was three-quarters of a length ahead of Social Outcast. The Vanderbilt star finished eight big lengths ahead of the fourth horse, Panasilup, who ran in the silks of Sean T. O'Kelley, president of Ireland.

The others came home in this order: The Llangollen farm's Mister Gus, United States; Clifford Moores Traffic Judge, 3-1 second choice, United States; Baron Henry Thyssen's Ataturk 2nd, Germany; Comte Roland 2nd, Germany; Ploumou 2nd, Italy; in the race, France; Sir Percy Loraine's Darius 2nd, England; Ralph Beaver Strassburger's Mahan, France; Prefect 2nd; Douglas Small's Aeschylus, United States; and Dorothy Page's Nucleus, England.

Redskins, Wildcats In Gulf Cellular Duel

Northeast Makes Last Home Show With La. College

The battle of the "have nots" in the Gulf States Conference takes place here tonight with the Louisiana College Wildcats and the Northeast State Indians fighting it out to see who can punch the other into the league cellar. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock at Brown Field.

With expected nearly matched eleven, the contest could prove a thriller in this last home stand of the season for coach Devone Payne's Northeast Tribesmen who close out their schedule at Ruston next Saturday against Louisiana Tech, their apparent to the Gulf States throne.

Both eleven will be minus one regular for the scrap.

Harold "Sonny" Clark, a player under Payne when the Indian coach was Tallulah High School mentor, is lost as quarterback for the Cats. He underwent a knee operation this week. Charlie Scott, a transfer from Texas A. and M., will replace Clark.

Tackle Sherrod McKoin, hurt in the Northwestern game last week, is due to be lost to the Tribe.

Ken O'Neal has been tagged as his replacement.

Neither of the opponents has won a G.S.C. battle this campaign. However, the Pinevilles have lost five to the Indians four. The Monroe gridmen have a better over-all record with three victories in eight starts as compared to only two wins and five set-backs for the Cats.

Mentor Paynes cohorts have licked Delta State of Cleveland, Miss., 7-0; Western Kentucky, 17-9; and Alabama Teachers College of Livingston, 25-13. On the other hand, they have taken terrific licks from Southeastern Louisiana by 40-0, from McNeese by 35-0, from Northwestern by 27-7, and from Southwestern Louisiana by 26-6.

So, Saturdays encounter should find two rather evenly-matched eleven battling it out to escape the G.S.C. cellar for 1955. Additional color is lent to the tilt because of the fact that coach Payne coached at least half of the L. C. squad in 1953 before taking the Northeast job in '54.

Payne himself is an ex-Wildcat gridiron star and an L. C. alumnus. The Orange and Blues leaves Pineville for Monroe this afternoon at 1:30 via special bus. They will return to the campus following the game Saturday night.

L. C. athletic director Jimmy Keeth announced that he will take 32 men on the trip. These include C. and J. Scott, Lloyd Pouchard, Frank Mobley, Jerry Baggett, Eugene Southern, Billy Stephens, Marshall Ryan, Tommy Bankston, Herman Sullivan, and Keith Pierce, backs; Douglass, Starr, Glen Evans, Walter Karr, Frank Cheek, Bob and Rudolph Wyatt, Frank Thrasher, Bullock, Griffith, Milner, Tommy Smith, Barney Hart, Harry Thompson, Tommy Acerra, Bob Herring, James Jossick, Jimmy Trotter, Tommy Francis, and Donald Grant, linemen.

Probable lineup: Louisiana College—Jossick and Grant, ends; Thompson and Evans, tackles; Hart and Cheek, guards; Herring, center; C. Scott, quarterback; Mobley and Southern half-backs; Bankston, fullback.

Tallulah Pastes Lake Providence By 26-23 Margin

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Tallulah High Trojans, still with a shot coming at the Ferriday Bulldogs, counted themselves still in the district title Class A race tonight by sidekicking the Lake Providence Panthers, 26-23, in a renewal of old rivalry. It was homecoming for the Trojans.

The Panthers drew first blood when Harold Thomas ripped off a 31-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, and Robert Earle kicked the point. Lake Providence sent Albert Surles on a 41-yard sneak to paydirt in the second period, with Earle again converting.

But the Trojans stormed Lake Providence for three touchdowns in the second quarter when Raymond Russell climaxed a 65-yard march with a five - yard yardage, Lynn Naylor raced over from the ten after the Trojans got possession of a Panther fumble, and Russell followed with his second touchdown drive. Stoney Williamson converted twice to hand Tallulah a 20-14 edge at the half.

The rest of the scoring was jammed into the third quarter. A blocked Tallulah punt in the end zone gave Lake Providence two points on a safety, and Thomas zoomed 39 yards for a touchdown, with Earle converting to end the Panther scoring.

Danny Newman plunged from the two after a 45-yard Trojan drive for Tallulah's clinching touchdown in one of the most thrilling games of the Panther-Trojan series.

Florida's Tempest Casts Big Shadow Over Vol Scramble

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 11 (AP) — Nearly 40,000 customers in Florida Field tomorrow will be watching to see how Florida's football team reacts in this homecoming game against Tennessee to a tempest that blew around Coach Bob Woodruff this week.

Woodruff came out of the storm in good shape — firmly backed by the head of the Alumni Association and by many sports editors over the state — after an undercurrent of criticism burst into the open through a sports column written in Georgia.

If there was a beginning of a movement to buy up the last year of Woodruff's $17,000 a year contract, as sports editor Johnny Hendrix of the Augusta Chronicle wrote, it was not in the open. Fred Kent, chairman of the board of control, said such an action had never been considered, formally or informally, although many persons had suggested a coaching change to him.

Woodruff, who called Hendrix's claims vicious rumors in one of his strongest statements of six years at Florida, said he didn't want his players to feel they had to win any game to save his job.

Nevertheless, most Florida fans are expecting the combination of the ruckus, the homecoming incentive and the Gators' second-half comeback victory over Georgia last week to spur the Gators to their peak performance.

There is a feeling this team has never "jelled" and has fallen short of its potential with four victories in seven games. The Gators avenged last year's losses to Louisiana State and Georgia but in turn lost to three Southeastern Conference powers they whipped last year — Georgia Tech, Auburn and Kentucky.

Those three defeats knocked Florida out of the SEC championship race. Tennessee still has an outside chance at the title with one victory, one loss and one tie. The tie last week with Georgia Tech gained the Vols much increased respect and an even chance to beat Florida.

Costa Gets Decision Against Joey Lopes

NEW YORK Nov. 11 (AP) — Clever Carmelo Costa raked Joey Lopes with quick eye-catching flurries and shook off his opponent's heavier punches tonight to win a unanimous decision in a 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. Costa weighed 129 1/2 lbs. 133 1/2.

The 21-year - old Brooklyn boxer ranked No. 4 challenger to the Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler, closed with a rush as Lopes appeared to tire under his own forcing pace. There were no knockdowns although Costa slipped down in the fourth. Referee Al Berl ruled a slip and no knockdown although the timekeeper had counted two.

Convicted Boxer, Joey Giardello, On Parole

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11 (AP) — Joey Giardello, 24 - year - old Philadelphia onetime middleweight contender today was freed from prison on parole after serving three months and three weeks on an assault charge.

Giardello had been sentenced to six to 18 months for beating a south Philadelphia gasoline station attendant in a brawl in October, 1954.

Winnsboro Falls To Delhi Bruins By 22-0 Margin

DELHI, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Delhi Bears, considered a cinch to reclaim their district Class B championship, exploded for three touchdowns in the final quarter here tonight to defeat the Class A Winnsboro Wildcats, 22 to 0.

The Bruins had nursed a 2 - 0 lead for three quarters, from the time Denon Jones was downed behind his won Winnsboro goal after taking a punt in the first quarter, until they cut loose to sew up the game with three fast touchdowns.

Downing a Wildcat punt on their own 39 the Bruins hammered the Wildcat 17. Then Buster Harrell fired a payoff pass to Jimmy Hopson. Bobby Leach kicked the extra point.

Tommy Mathieu, Delhi's leading scorer, then grabbed a Winnsboro fumble on the Wildcat three and went over for the TD. Leach again kicked the point.

Travis Richards went off tackle from the seven for the final Delhi touchdown.

McNeese Taking On Southeastern For Second Spot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

McNeese State and Southeastern Louisiana battle Saturday to see who is the best of the also-rans in the Gulf States Conference football race.

Although not mathematically eliminated, neither team has much of a chance to overtake Louisiana Tech, which shutout both McNeese and Southeastern, needs only a victory over sixth place Northeast State next week to win its first undisputed GSC crown since 1949.

So the McNeese - Southeastern game looks like a scrap for second place. While McNeese hasn't lost since its 14-0 defeat by Tech five weeks ago, Southeastern is trying to end a four-game losing streak.

The game will match some of the top GSC ground gainers. McNeese uses Jesse Castete and Ray Simmons extensively while the Southeastern power comes from Mickey Catalanotto and Ed Welch.

While the lower-ranked squads are knocking each other around, front runner Louisiana Tech, unbeaten in GSC play, goes out of the conference to take on Austin College.

In other GSC games, Louisiana College and Northeast State fight to push each other into the cellar, and Northwestern meets Southwestern Louisiana Institute as both try for third place.

Jena Takes Big Conference Win Over Winnfield

WINNFIELD, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Jena High School Giants remained the only unbeaten team in district three double-A conference play tonight by topping the Winnfield Tigers, 27-7, and needs only to whip Natchitoches next week to sew up the title. A Natchitoches win, however, would throw the league race into a three-way tie.

James Veach galloped 42 yards to send Jena ahead tonight in the first quarter, and the Giants bagged two more touchdowns in the second quarter on an eight-yard touchdown pass, Tommy Thompson to Pat Druett, and an eight-yard dash by Ronald Manchester.

Manchester bagged the final Jena touchdown on a four-yard plunge in the last period. Richard Bridges converted behind all but the first Giant Touchdown.

John Harrington gave partisan Winnfield fans a thrill in the final period when he took the kickoff following Manchester's second score on a 90-yard touchdown romp. Harrington also converted.

EDMONTON WINS WINNIPEG, Nov. 11 (AP) — Spearheaded by the hard running of fullback Johnny Bright, the Edmonton Eskimos smashed the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, 29-6, today in the first game of their best - of - three Western Interprovincial Football Union final before 15,553 fans. The second game will be played at Edmonton next Wednesday.

The Bernie girls followed the lead of Andrews' 24 points to sink the visitors. Upshaw added seven points to Marion's cause. Elliott and Farrar led Bernie scoring with five and four points respectively.

The Bossier City Bearkats, aided by eight West Monroe fumbles, half of which they recovered, defeated the Rebels at Brown Stadium last night, by a 20-12 margin.

But for the first minute of the opening half, the first two of the second, and a pass interception, it might have been 12-0. The Rebs outplayed their Shreveport visitors, racking up 11 first downs to their six, and penetrating deep on every drive. They were outgained in rushing yardage, but a (40-yard) Bossier City run and a sustained drive in the last quarter piled up the yards from scrimmage for the Kats.

On the first play of the game after Bossier had kicked off, the Rebs lost the ball on a fumble, and two plays later the Green and White had scored, with fullback James Gault, the Kats' offensive leader all evening, breaking loose for 19 yards and the tally. Charles Stevens kicked the first of his two place-ments, and his team led, 7-0, before the fans hardly had time to settle in their seats.

West Monroe took the ensuing kickoff and marched to the Bossier, 9, with Eugene Thrasher and Mack Hunt gaining most of the yardage. Another fumble, with Bossier recovering, halted the drive, but a high pass from center to the Bearkat kicker on fourth down gave the Rebs possession on the five. Four plays, with two fumbles recovered by the fumbler, kept West Monroe from moving into touchdown-land, and the Kats took over again on the nine as the first period ended.

Early in the second, Rebel end George Smith, who played an outstanding defensive game all evening, tackled the Bossier punter on his three after another bad pass from center, and Sonny Odom plunged across in two tries.

However, the West Monroe pass from center was high on the placement try, and Robert Perkins was tackled short of the final stripe when he had to run it, which gave the Bearkats a 7-6 lead at half-time.

They scored soon after the second half kickoff, when quarterback Billy Laughlin returned the Rebs kick from his own two to the West Monroe 25, where he was brought down by Billy Hughes, the last Rebs defender.

In four plays they had scored again, with John Mercer scoring on a 17 - yard dash. The placement kick for point was wide, and it was 13-6.

Driving from their own 36 just before the period ended, with Johnny Marzula and Hughes ripping off large chunks of yardage, and Thrasher contributing 14 and Hunt 12, the Rebels moved to the Kats' five, from where Hughes skirted over for the TD, to make it 13-12. Again the center pass on the try for point kick was high, and Wayne Hendricks, the kicker, had to leap high for it. He attempted a hasty dropkick, and only missed by inches when the ball crossed off the crossbar.

A pass interception by Gault late in the quarter led the verdict for Bossier. He owned Hunt's loss on West Monroe's 30, and carried to the 15. They moved to the 12, and Laughlin scored from there on an end run.

LaSalle Notches Win No. 10; Many Beaten, 28 To 7

OLLA, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The unbeaten LaSalle High Tigers of Olla notched their tenth victory of the season in their last scheduled game tonight by knocking off Many High, 28-7, to assure Coach Phillip White's Bengals of a place in the Class A title playoffs.

Whether or not LaSalle had clinched the district title depended on reports from the St. John's of Shreveport - Homer game. A Homer loss would assure LaSalle of the district crown, but a Pellam win would force a district playoff here next Friday.

After a scoreless first quarter, LaSalle put glory into its homecoming program with 14 points in the second period when Ken Winberry fired a pass to Jay May for a 30-yard scoring play, and Julian Keene plowed over from the one after a pass interception by Bud Brady and a Winberry pass to Keene had set up the one-yard plunge. Winberry and Keene each added a point in the period.

William Moody charged in to jar the Many quarterback loose from the ball in the third quarter, and Jay May covered the fumble deep in Many territory. Winberry ran the ball over and also converted.

Winberry added the last Tiger touchdown in the fourth period on a 20-yard run, and Keene converted Many's lone TD came on a long pass from Jerry Brown to Charles Hayes, and Brown passed to Charles Byrd for the point.

Rayville Hornets March Over Oak Grove, 32 To 13

OAK GROVE, La., Nov. 11 (Special) — The Rayville Hornets came up off the bottom in the district Class A race tonight to score their first in five conference clashes as they downed the Oak Grove Tigers, 32 - 13, for their fourth conference loss.

Rayville scored in all but the second period with Cary O'Neal opening the parade with a 20-yard touchdown dash for the Hornets. O'Neal counted again on a 30-yard jaunt, and capped this night's work by taking a fourth quarter pass from George Greer to paydirt. O'Neal also converted twice.

Other Hornet touchdowns came on a 40 - yard run by Charles Johnson, and an eight - yard dash by Bobby Weaver.

Oak Grove cracked over two touchdowns in the fourth period when Gene Gammill went over from the ten, and Jimmy Bradley, who converted behind Gammill's tally, raced over from the five.

The host Tigers made 12 first downs to 11 for Rayville. Oak Grove showered Rayville with passes, completing 18 out of 30 tosses and having two intercepted. The Hornets completed three of 11 passes.

'Uninvited' El Chama 1st By Head In International

By JOHN CHANDLER LAUREL, Md., Nov. 11 (AP) — South America jumped into the winner's circle of the $65,000 Washington, D.C., International global thoroughbred classic today when El Chama from Venezuela defeated Predase, from the same country by a head before a roaring record crowd at Laurel Park.

It was a pulse - stopper from flag fall at the walkup start to the exciting finish of the mile and half race contested by thoroughbred stars from seven nations. The best the United States could show was a third place for Social Outcast, the 2-1 favorite.

The result was tremendous not only for the Latin neighbors down below the equator, but for El Chama's owner, Dr. Carlos Vogel - Rincones, master of the El Rio Stable.

Rincones paid his own freight for the fourth running of the colorful grass course classic that is a challenge for horseless accepted by the leading racing stables of the world. Laurel normally shells out the expenses to fly foreign steeds to its beautiful tree-lined course.

Predase, owned by Jose Federico Sicaardi, copped the Clasico Simon Bolivar, Venezuela's biggest race, Oct. 30, and El Chama was third. When Predase was invited to the International, Rincones immediately cabled Laurel President John Schapiro that he thought he had the best horse and offered to pay his own way to get in the scramble. He got a gold edged invitation, flew up on the same plane with his rival, and the answer will go down in the records of one of sporting's greatest contests.

Four countries have won the race and this was the first for a South American. Wilwyn won for England in 1952, Worden for France in 1953, and Fisherman carried the stars and stripes of the U.S. to victory last fall.

The crowd of 32,450, besting the 31,100 record for the 1953 race, thought so little of El Chama's chances that they let him get away at a sweet $41 for $2 win mutual. The bay 4-year-old Venezuelan had been coupled in the mutual field with Canada's representative, the Alberta ranches' Prefect 2nd, since with only 12 tote board numbers, they had to get in that thirteenth horse. So, a bet for either nation produced the prize. El Chama paid $16.20 to place, and $7 to show.

Predase returned $20.80 to place, and $10.40 to show, while Social Outcast was $3.60 to show. El Chama, who won six of his last eight races in his native land, was given a great ride by jockey Raul Bustamante, a Chilean who has been the leading rider in Venezuela for the last three years.

The winner was clocked on a turf course made soft by overnight rain in 2:36.15, compared with the track record of 2:30 4-5 made three years ago by Wilwyn.

Social Outcast, owned by Alfred Vanderbilt, made a great run from next to last place. For a moment it appeared he and jockey Eric Guerin might make the grade. But Bustamante was whipping El Chama furiously and jockey Angel Gutierrez was doing the same for Predase as they flashed down to the wire.

The photo showed a head victory for El Chama, while Predase was three-quarters of a length ahead of Social Outcast. The Vanderbilt star finished eight big lengths ahead of the fourth horse, Panaspiper, who ran in the silks of Sean T. O'Kelley, president of Ireland.

The others came home in this order: The Llangollen farm's Mister Gus, United States; Clifford Mooers Traffic Judge, 34, second choice, United States; Baron Henry Thyssen's Ataturk 2nd, Germany; Comte Roland De Chambure's Picadonia, only filly in the race, France; Sir Percy Loraine's Darius 2nd, England; Ralph Beaver Strassburger's Mahan, France; Prefect 2nd; Douglas Small's Aeschylus, United States; and Dorothy Paget's Nucleus, England.

Bowl Hopes, Loop Crowns At Stake In Several Cases

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
The Associated Press

A football takes some funny bounces and so do football teams. And while the effects of rebounds by beaten teams are well known, there's another bouncing factor that may produce some odd results in today's major college games.

A team that has won a few big games and starts looking past a lightly-regarded opponent is likely to suffer a letdown with painful consequences. A bout out half the teams listed in the nation's top 10 in this week's Associated Press poll falls into that classification while only one is among the rebounders.

Starting at the top, unbeaten Oklahoma, ranked No. 1, could be looking right past Iowa State today toward next week's date with Nebraska, which currently is tied with the Sooners for the Big 7 lead. UCLA, No. 4, faces a tough Washington team before its Pacific Coast Conference title bout with Southern California.

Notre Dame, No. 5, almost had its letdown against Penn last week but won handily after a first-half scare. The Irish face a similar situation today against North Carolina with the big ones against Iowa and Southern California still in the future.

Texas A&M, No. 9, the Southwest Conference leader, plays Rice, the last-place team in that league. Ohio State, No. 10, the Big 10 pacemaker, has a fairly rugged assignment against Iowa but the decisive game against Michigan is next week.

Michigan, dumped from the unbeaten ranks by Illinois last week, is expected to bounce back and take out its ire on Indiana. Other rebounds which could have painful consequences to the opposition are those of Army, Navy and Georgia Tech. Army was Yale's upset victim last week while Navy and bowl-conscious Tech were held to ties. They play a trio of non-winners, Penn, Columbia and Alabama.

There's little doubt that the other upper bracket teams have the proper mental approach to today's games. Maryland, No. 2, West Virginia (6) and Texas Christian (8) engage in tussles of major importance while Michigan State (3) carries hopes for a championship and the Rose Bowl bid into its final Big 10 game against Minnesota.

Unbeaten Maryland tackles Clemson, loser only to Rice, on the Tigers' own field. The Atlantic Coast Conference title and the Orange Bowl bid probably hinge on this game in which Maryland is a strong favorite.

West Virginia, the third major unbeaten power, plays Pittsburgh, its oldest football opponent and possibly its toughest this season. A bowl invitation is in the offing if the Mountaineers can win decisively. The Cotton Bowl hopes of Texas and Texas Christian depend a lot on their clash today. The loser likely will be out and the winner No. 1 in line for the designation since the Aggies are on probation and ineligible for this year's title.

For fans who like their football garnished with Ivy, the East offers two top attractions, the 78th Yale-Princeton game and the 56th Syracuse-Colgate tilt. Yale can clinch the still-unofficial Ivy League title by beating Princeton's Tigers. Syracuse, the 1957 national champion, is the 1958 Ivy League champion.

Tech Points For 8th Win In Austin College Battle

RUSTON, La., Nov. 10 (Special)—With at least a tie for the Gulf States Conference championship in the bag, Louisiana Tech faces non-conference Austin College here Saturday night as the Bulldogs try for victory number eight.

The Techsters can claim the undisputed G.S.C. title by winning over the Northeast State Indians in the season closer set for Tech Stadium on November 19.

If the Canines can take both of the remaining battles on the 1958 schedule they will wind up the season with a 9-1 record, the C.S.C. crown and the most victories a Tech team has won in a season since 1907. Records reveal that the only Bulldog team ever to win nine tilts in a season was coach George L. Watkins' 1907 squad that finished with a 9-1 record.

The last Red and Blue team to lose only one game during a season was in 1952 when coach Joe Allie's boys won six, lost one and tied two.

Although the Saturday night affair has no bearing upon the Gulf States loop standing, the Techsters can't afford to overlook a big, tough Austin College eleven that has a 5-3 record this fall. Tech defeated the Kangaroos here last fall in a 40-14 tussle and the Texans will be out to revenge that loss.

Georgia Seeking To Spoil Auburn Dreams Of Bowl

COLUMBUS, Ga., Nov. 11 (AP)—Sophomores could steal the spotlight tomorrow when bowl-hopeful Auburn tackles upset-minded Georgia in one of Dixie's oldest football rivalries.

Rookies are key men in battle plans of both coaches, Wally Butts of Georgia and Ralph Jordan of Auburn.

The Plainsmen, definitely interested in a bid to the Cotton Bowl or Sugar Bowl, boast two of the Southeastern Conference's hottest sophomores—halfback speedster Bobby Hoppe and end Jimmy Phillips, a worthy successor to the great Jim P. Burns. Both will start.

Georgia may start rookies at both halfback spots. Left half Jeff Davis and running mate Henry Dukes, both determined, slashing ball carriers, have moved ahead of several veterans at their positions.

Auburn's bread-and-butter backs are All-America fullback candidate Joe Childress and halfback Fob James. Georgia's standbys, along with Dukes and Davis, are fullback Bobby Garrard, halfback Wendell Tarleton and quarterbacks Jimmy Harper and Dick Young. Harper directs, primarily, a running attack; Young handles the passing game.

Georgia, underdog by a touch-down, would find an upset victory particularly pleasing because of last year's humiliating 35-0 loss to the Plainsmen—and because of what happened at this neutral site 13 years ago.

In 1942 Georgia, not Auburn, was the bowl candidate and the Bulldogs were heavily favored. But Auburn upended All-America Frankie Sinkwich and his Georgia mates 27-13 for their only loss of the season. Georgia still made the Rose Bowl that time, beating U.C.L.A. 9-0, but a loss tomorrow would kill Auburn's bowl chances. Auburn stands 5-1-1 for the season, Georgia 4-4.

U.C.L.A. Heavily Favored Against Washington Foes

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11 (AP)—U.C.L.A., the top scoring and fourth ranking team in the nation, rules a topheavy favorite to trim Washington tomorrow and virtually sew up the Pacific Coast Conference assignment for the Rose Bowl game.

The local Bruins have a 4-0 conference record, as against runner-up Oregon State's 4-1 mark. Each has two conference games to play and Oregon State's long league loss was to U.C.L.A., 6-38.

The single wing machine has piled up 249 points and is the least scored upon major power in the country, with only 33 points registered against it by eight opponents. The lone U.C.L.A. loss was to Maryland, 0-7.

Washington, after whipping Minnesota, Southern California and two lesser foes, has since lost three and tied one game and is a 27-point underdog tomorrow.

Basketball Coach Waldo Fisher May Get Wildcat Post

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP)—A man associated with Northwestern athletics for 31 years, basketball coach Waldo Fisher, may become the new athletic director expected to restore the Wildcats to football respectability.

Fisher, an athletic staff member ever since his graduation in 1928 after four years of Northwestern stardom, is most prominently mentioned as successor to Ted Payseur, yesterday "kicked upstairs."

School president J. Roscoe Miller yesterday announced that Payseur was relieved of the athletic director's post to become an assistant business manager of the university "for athletics."

The move obviously was directed entirely at reorganizing a football program which has produced only one Big Ten victory in 17 games since 1953 and this season finds the Wildcats winless in seven starts.

Voigts quit early this year under almost pressure.

Fisher, 45, starred in basketball and football as a collegian and before he succeeded the late Harold Olsen in 1928, was a Wildcat assistant coach in football and basketball.

Fisher was a standout end on the 1926 Northwestern team, the school's first to win a Big Ten football championship.

Besides Fisher, two others rate as candidates for the athletic directorship. They are Rut Walter, head track coach and director of the intramural program, and Chet Gargas, present assistant athletic director.

The new man is expected to be selected within 10 days.

Coach Raps AAU Bid To Rate His Sprinter Fastest

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP)—A stop-watch tempest boiled today as Northwestern's track coach criticized a National A.A.U. move to credit his star sprinter, Jim Golliday, with a new world record time of 9.2 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

The performance in question happened in the Big Ten Relays May 4 at Evanston and at the time, Golliday's clocking was announced as 9.3 matching the world mark set in 1948 by Southern California's Mel Patton and equaled by Australia's Hector Hogen in 1954.

The unique position of a coach not grabbing all the spotlight possible for a protégé was taken by Wildcat mention Rut Walter because: "If those people go fooling around asking for a 9.2 record, Golliday won't even get his honest 9.3."

This was a slam at the National A.A.U., whose secretary, Dan Ferris, announced in New York that the Central A.A.U. (Chicago area) gummed up a record application submitted to the national group. Ferris said a 9.2 clocking will be submitted for approval at the A.A.U. convention in Louisville Dec. 1-4.

But Walter said he, himself, filed the application and that Ferris was wrong in saying two of the required three timers caught Golliday at 9.2 and the third at 9.3.

"It was the other way around," said Walter. "Two clocked him at 9.3 and one at 9.2. True, there was a fourth timer, an alternate, who also to the N.C.A.A. so it could be time is unofficial."

"I very carefully made this application, knowing the factors involved, and wanting to keep it entirely official. I submitted it not only to the National A.A.U., but also to the N.C.A.A. so it could be considered for international, National A.A.U. and National Collegiate approval."

Golliday, top United States sprinter prospect for the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne, Australia, was slightly bewildered.

"I'd like to be the fastest world's human in the books, naturally," said Golliday, "but I'd rather be a co-record holder for sure, than the other maybe."

Dead Exec's Ashes Scattered On Park

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 11 (AP)—The ashes of Guy M. Sundt, University of Wisconsin athletic director and one-time Badger sports great at Wisconsin who died Oct. 25, have been scattered over Camp Randall Stadium.

This carried out a wish expressed by Sundt and his widow, Mary. Four close friends of the late director were aboard the aircraft that swooped over the playing field with the ashes yesterday.

Sundt captained the Wisconsin football team in 1921 and also played on basketball and track teams. Later he assisted in coaching three sports before becoming athletic director in 1950.

ENOEHLARDT ROMPS OMAHA, Nov. 11 (AP)—Bill Engelhardt of Omaha University, the nation's total offense leader among small football college players, picked up 93 yards running and 15 passing today as the Indians handed Idaho State an 18 to 7 defeat.

SIKES, La., Nov. 11 (Special)—Sikes High School sent its girls' basketball teams on an invasion of Kelly to win a double header from the Kelly High girls as the varsity girls triumphed, 72-39, and the "B" team won, 51-12.

Annette Simmons hooped 36 points to lead the Sikes varsity and Sandra Smith contributed 23. Hargroves led Kelly's "A" team with 28. Guard work of June Larey, Beth Emmons, and Carolyn Scroggins was outstanding for Sikes.

Linda Simmons, with 28 points, paced the Sikes "B" team's win while Bratton led Kelly's second-stringers with 11.

L. S. U. Seeking 1st Homecoming Win Since 1949

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 11 (AP)—Louisiana State University, which hasn't won since the season opener, will be out to make it a happy homecoming tomorrow night with an upset football victory over Mississippi State.

But LSU, with a 1-5-1 record for the year, hasn't won a homecoming game since 1949, and hasn't beaten the Maroons since 1951.

State was a leading contender for the Southeastern Conference title until it dropped a 27-26 decision to Auburn last Saturday for its second league loss.

The Tigers have lost four straight by a total of 27 points, including last week's 13-0 defeat by Maryland.

"Our boys want to win badly," said coach Paul Dietzel. "I know they will be going all out to win this one."

Darrell Royal, Maroon head coach, warned his scout reports indicate "LSU is one of the hardest-hitting clubs we will encounter."

U.C.L.A. Heavily Favored Against Washington Foes

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11 (AP)—U.C.L.A., the top scoring and fourth ranking team in the nation, rules a topheavy favorite to trim Washington tomorrow and virtually sew up the Pacific Coast Conference assignment for the Rose Bowl game.

The local Bruins have a 4-0 conference record, as against runner-up Oregon State's 4-1 mark. Each has two conference games to play and Oregon State's long league loss was to U.C.L.A., 0-38.

The stout Bulldog forward wall that has been such a terror on the gridiron this fall will find its match in weight against the Kangaroos. In fact, Tech's line and backfield will both be outweighed when they take the field Saturday night. A.C. will field a line that averages 210 per man and a backfield that tips the scales at 186 per player. Tech's forward wall will average 207 and the backfield 177.

Special guests of Louisiana Tech for the game will be members of the Farmerville High School band and a group of Boy Scouts who will be on the campus Saturday attending an area junior leaders conference. Directed by Frank Wilson, the Farmerville band will perform at the game.

Probable starting lineups:

But LSU, with a 1-5-1 record for the year, hasn't won a homecoming game since 1949, and hasn't beaten the Maroons since 1951.

State was a leading contender for the Southeastern Conference title until it dropped a 27-26 decision to Auburn last Saturday for its second league loss.

The Tigers have lost four straight by a total of 27 points, including last week's 13-0 defeat by Maryland.

"Our boys want to win badly," said coach Paul Dietzel. "I know they will be going all out to win this one."

Darrell Royal, Maroon head coach, warned his scout reports indicate "LSU is one of the hardest-hitting clubs we will encounter."

Sikes High Girls Take Double Bill On Kelly Invasion

SIKES, La., Nov. 11 (Special)—Sikes High School sent its girls' basketball teams on an invasion of Kelly to win a double header from the Kelly High girls as the varsity girls triumphed, 72-39, and the "B" team won, 51-12.

Annette Simmons hooped 36 points to lead the Sikes varsity and Sandra Smith contributed 23. Hargroves led Kelly's "A" team with 28. Guard work of June Usrey, Beth Emmons, and Carolyn Scroggins was outstanding for Sikes.

Linda Simmons, with 26 points, paced the Sikes "B" team's win, while Bratton led Kelly's second-stringers with 11.

Basketball Coach Waldo Fisher May Get Wildcat Post

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP)—A man associated with Northwestern athletics for 31 years, basketball coach Waldo Fisher, may become the new athletic director expected to restore the Wildcats to football respectability.

Fisher, an athletic staff member ever since his graduation in 1923 after four years of Northwestern stardom, is most prominently mentioned as successor to Ted Payeur, yesterday "kicked upstairs."

School president J. Roscoe Miller yesterday announced that Payeur was relieved of the athletic director's post to become an assistant business manager of the university "for athletics."

The move obviously was directed entirely at reorganizing a football program which has produced only one Big Ten victory in 17 games since 1933 and this season finds the Wildcats winless in seven starts.

The new athletic director will have in his hands the fate of Lou Saban, nearing the end of a one-

Coach Raps AAU Bid To Rate His Sprinter Fastest

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 11 (AP)—A stop-watch tempest boiled today as Northwestern's track coach criticized a National A.A.U. move to credit his star sprinter, Jim Golliday, with a new world record time of 9.2 seconds for the 100-yard dash.

The performance in question happened in the Big Ten Relays May 4 at Evanston and at the time, Golliday's clocking was announced as 9.3 matching the world mark set in 1948 by Southern California's Mel Patton and equalled by Australia's Hector Hogen in 1954.

The unique position of a coach not grabbing all the spotlight possible for a protege was taken by Wildcat mentor Rut Walter because:

"If those people go fooling around asking for a 9.2 record, Golliday won't even get his honest 9.3."

This was a slam at the National A.A.U., whose secretary, Dan Ferris, announced in New York that the Central A.A.U. (Chicago area) gumped up a record application submitted to the national group. Ferris said a 9.2 clocking will be submitted for approval at the A.A.U. convention in Louisville Dec. 14.

But Walter said he, himself, filed the application and that Ferris was wrong in saying two of the required three timers caught Golliday at 9.2 and "the third at 9.3." "It was the other way around," said Walter. "Two clocked him at 9.3 and one at 9.2. True, there was a fourth timer, an alternate, who also to the N.C.A.A. so it could be time is unofficial."

"I very carefully made this application, knowing the factors involved, and wanting to keep it entirely official. I submitted it not only to the National A.A.U., but also to the N.C.A.A. so it could be considered for International, National A.A.U. and National Collegiate approval."

Golliday, top United States' sprint prospect for the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne, Australia, was slightly bewildered.

"I'd like to be the fastest world's human in the books, naturally," said Golliday, "but I'd rather be a co-record holder for sure, than the other maybe."

Dead Exec's Ashes Scattered On Park

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 11 (AP)—The ashes of Guy M. Sundt, University of Wisconsin athletic director and one-time Badger sports great at Wisconsin who died Oct. 25, have been scattered over Camp Randall Stadium.

This carried out a wish expressed by Sundt and his widow, Mary. Four close friends of the late director were aboard the aircraft that swooped over the playing field with the ashes yesterday.

Sundt captained the Wisconsin football team in 1921 and also played on basketball and track teams. Later he assisted in coaching three sports before becoming athletic director in 1950.

ENGELHARDT ROMPS
OMAHA, Nov. 11 (AP)—Bill Engelhardt of Omaha University, the nation's total offense leader among small football college players, picked up 93 yards running and 15 passing today as the Indians handed Idaho State an 18 to 7 defeat.

year contract as new head football coach succeeding harrassed Bob Voigts.

Voigts quit early this year under alumni pressure.

Fisher, 45, starred in basketball and football as a collegian and before he succeeded the late Harold Olsen in 1952, was a Wildcat assistant coach in football and basketball.

1926 Northwestern team, the school's first to win a Big Ten football championship.

Besides Fisher, two others rate as candidates for the athletic directorship. They are Rut Walter, head track coach and director of the intramural program, and Chet Gargas, present assistant athletic director.

West Germany's Army Reviving Today In Bonn

BONN, Germany, Nov. 11—UP—West Germany's new army will be born Saturday.

About 100 men, of all ranks from non-commissioned officer to lieutenant general, will pledge themselves to serve the federal republic and obey its constitution.

They will be the first German soldiers since Adolf Hitler's "1,000-year" Nazi Reich crumbled in ruins in 1945.

As they put on their new field gray uniforms, the West German government already will be fighting to make the new army a democratic one and not the Prussian war machine of tradition.

The men who will be sworn in Saturday are the nucleus of the 500,000-man Streitkräfte, the defense force which is to become a part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

rying out the doors. No one was hurt.

Police said someone accidentally touched a button in a teller's cage which set off the bomb, meant for use in case of a holdup.

Emphatic 'No' State Department Shows Alarm Over Persistent Rumors On Israeli Arms

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—The State Department evidenced deep concern today over persistent reports the United States will supply Israel with significant amounts of military gear—reports denied again in very emphatic terms.

Department press officer Lincoln White went out of his way to stress at a news conference:

"There has been no"—and he spelled it out N-O—"decision on this question."

White produced copies of President Eisenhower's Middle East policy statement Wednesday, the U.S.-British-French declaration of 1950 and Secretary of State Dulles' Aug. 26 speech.

He "reviewed the whole situation" for reporters by reading from these three documents, saying he wanted to clear up persistent "misunderstandings about the Middle East situation."

"There are still stories that the United States has decided to provide Israel with significant quantities of arms," White said. "I repeat there has been no decision on this question."

Israel is seeking U.S. arms to balance Soviet bloc shipments of guns, tanks, jet planes and submarines to Egypt. The Israelis say their shopping list will be submitted shortly, but the Israel Embassy said military experts have not yet forwarded the list of needs.

White said U.S. policy, as made clear in the three-nations declaration, the Eisenhower statement and the Dulles speech, is being pushed on two fronts:

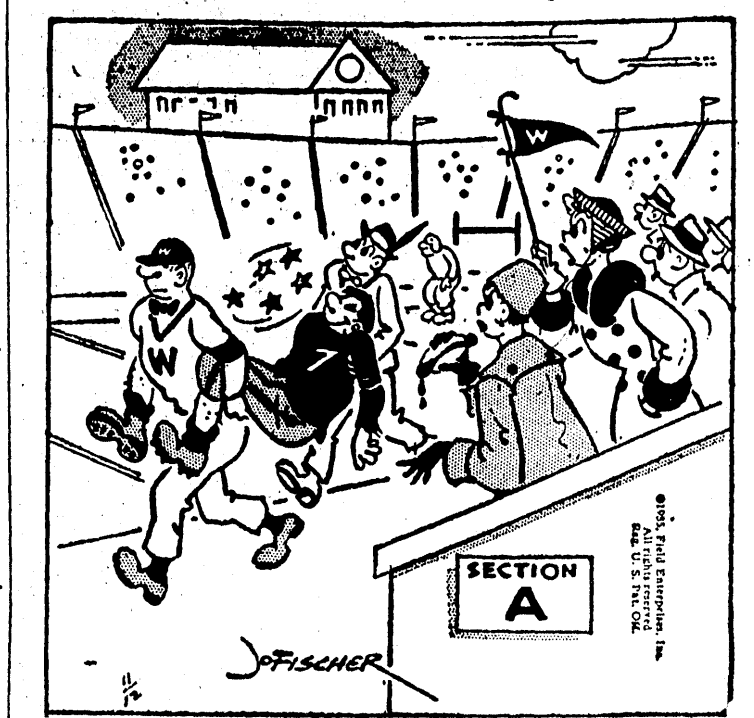

1. In seeking approval of United Nations proposals for troop withdrawals from the El Ajla demilitarized zone on the Israeli-Egyptian border. This White described as the short-range goal designed to "put out the fire."

2. A settlement along the lines proposed by Dulles; security guarantees under the U.N. to erase mutual distrust between Israel and the Arab states. U.S. financial help to resettle refugees, agreement on fixed boundary lines. This was termed the long-haul solution.

White said the United States "certainly hopes" to hear from Israel and Egypt on their reaction to the U.N. proposals.

"Our understanding is that both countries have the proposals under study," White said.

Mamie Creates Cheer By Opening Blinds, Turning On White House Lights

By RUTH COWAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (AP)—Folks going home to dinner tonight in the early winter dusk saw the White House gleaming with lights.

That's the way Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower likes it to be.

She thinks it betokens good cheer within if a home's living room shades are up and the light shines forth.

One of the first instructions she gave the White House staff after she and President Eisenhower moved in back in January 1953, was: "Don't draw the curtains on the main floor."

And tonight the White House, set back amid trees that have nearly lost all their leaves, was aglow downstairs and up. Light shined from the north and south porches, too.

"First time the lights have been on like that since the President and Mrs. Eisenhower went to Denver back in August," said a guard at the White House gate. "It does look cheerful."

Within the lighted mansion there was quiet good cheer—and thankfulness.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower flew in from Denver in the afternoon. It was the first time

Speakers Claim: Textile Industry In 'Last Ditch' Battle For Life

AUGUSTA Ga., Nov. 11 (AP)—The textile industry of the United States is waging a "last ditch stand for survival" in the face of a second threatened tariff reduction on Japanese cotton goods and synthetics, delegates to the 10th annual Carded Yarns Assn., convention were told today.

Two speakers—Gov. Luther Hughes of North Carolina and Robert C. Jackson, executive vice president of the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute—stressed the seriousness of the situation in addresses.

"While everyone sympathizes with the plight of Japan and realizes the importance of her economic alignment with the free world, the results of this tariff action touch the lives and economic welfare of all of us here in the South," Hodges asserted.

The major cause for alarm, it was brought out, is that a second 15 per cent reduction in tariff on Japanese cotton goods looms as a possibility at the Geneva conference in January. This, coupled with reductions in amounts ranging from 27 to 50 per cent in June, was seen as "the straw that will break the camel's back."

Queen's Troops To Appear At La. Tech Nov. 18

RUSTON, Nov. 11 (Special) — Louisiana Tech's Concert Association will mark a high point in its 11-year existence when Queen Elizabeth's Buckingham Palace household troops, the Scots Guards, step onto the floor of Memorial Gymnasium on Nov. 18 at 8 p. m. On a good will tour of the United States, the 100 Scots Guards, including regimental band, massed pipers and highland dancers will present to the Tech audience a program of "trousing music, pageantry and colorful marching ceremonies." The regimental band is a modern marching unit but the massed pipers and highland dancers go back many generations for their origins. Many of the pipers of the Scots Guards have been taught their skills by their fathers and grandfathers. In wartime, for several centuries, the duty of the pipers was to play the regiment into battle. Today, however, the pipers, wearing full highland dress and the Royal Stuart tartan, play round the dinner table when the queen gives a state dinner. In their performance here, they will be seen in full costume consisting of blue doublet, feather bonnets, highland swords, and dirk. Their pipes, emblazoned with the crests of the different companies, are adorned with silken banners. Your lawn will get an earlier start in spring if it is green when it freezes in the fall.

SUBSTRUCTURE FINISHED
SHREVEPORT — UP — The substructure of the new Barksdale bridge over the Red River here has been completed and raising of steel on the superstructure of this stand is now underway. The substructure was accepted by both the state highway department and the federal government. Illinois voters have favored Republican candidates in eight of the past 14 presidential elections.

Practical Nursing Fine Field For Mature Woman

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR MISS DIX: I have discussed this problem with many people, but so far have found no satisfactory solution. I am a woman in my 40's, married to man in his 60's. I have one son, 12.

I come from a family with little money so it was impossible for me to attend school very long. I worked at housework and in stores, but was never trained to earn a living. If anything happened to my husband I wouldn't know how to go out and get a job.

Is there anything I can do to prepare myself for the future?

ANSWER: Your lengthy letter was certainly well written. While you may not have had much formal schooling, you are not lacking in intelligence. There are many suggestions I could make, and many fields open to you. Practical nursing is an excellent field. Nurses are very much in demand at present, the profession pays well, and the training takes but a year. It's worth investigating.

If you have some talent or hobby that you could put to use, working at home might be the solution. I have a list of books suggesting many trades to be carried on at home. Write me, asking for the Home Income Reading List, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and you'll receive a multitude of suggestions.

Planning for the future is a sound idea. But planning is futile without action, so do examine your own desires and capabilities, then act without delay.

YOUR FAULT

DEAR MISS DIX: Two months ago a young man came to work at our office. We dated quite frequently and about three weeks ago he decided to go away to look for another job. He came to see me before he left, and as I didn't want him to leave, we had quite a heated argument.

He left the next morning, not phoning to say good-bye. Since then, his mother has heard from him and called to give me his address. Do you think it is wise for me to write him or should I wait to hear from him first?

ANSWER: Earning a living is man's province and it certainly isn't up to any girl friend to tell him where he should or should not go. Undoubtedly he realized the limitations of his job and wanted to improve his status. You should have encouraged, not discouraged him.

If the lad has any pride, it will be a long time before he writes you. The first letter should be yours.

DEAR MISS DIX: Our brothers and sisters suggest that we draw names for Christmas gifts instead of each person giving to the entire family. When and where did this custom originate? How does it work out? Does it include the children and grandparents? Any information will be enlightening and appreciated.

Mrs. L. O.

ANSWER: The origin of the custom is unknown to me but it does work out, especially in large families where there just isn't enough money to purchase gifts for everyone. All members, however, probably will want to give to the grandparents and children.

For the others, the best system is for each couple to draw the name of another couple. Then you might exchange personal gifts or things for the home — this to be decided either by personal preference or family vote. This method certainly is preferable to the often-heard solution, "We just decided not to exchange presents this year." Christmas without some gifts, no matter how small, just isn't Christmas.

Tallulah Girl To Reign At Northwestern Affair

NATCHITOCHES, Nov. 11 (Special) — Miss Pat Murphy, nursing student from Tallulah, has been named Northwestern State College's homecoming queen, and will reign here at homecoming activities on Saturday, Nov. 19. Miss Murphy, a petite brunette, was chosen from a field of 12 candidates, all of whom were nominated by the "N" club, an organization of athletes of the NSC campus. Her court during the afternoon

Ouachita Man Is Found Dead Near Cheniere

Funeral services for Dewey Washer, 56, who was found dead in his home near the mouth of Cheniere Lake outside West Monroe Thursday afternoon, were held Friday afternoon at Cartwright Baptist Church near Calhoun.

Rev. Frank Smith officiated at the service and interment followed in the Cartwright cemetery under the direction of Hall Funeral Home.

Dr. J. T. French, Ouachita parish coroner, said Washer's death was due to a heart attack. He died about 3 p. m. Thursday and his body was found a short time later by Harvey Gibson, Negro, who had come to Washer's house to visit him.

When he died Washer had $836.90 in his pockets, $700 of it in $100 bills, Dr. French said.

He is survived by brothers, Felix Washer of Plaquemines and Clarence Washer of Montgomery, one sister, Mrs. Nettie Huey of Choudrant, and a number of nieces and nephews.

are Shirley Lord of Monroe, French vice president; Zanona Flinn of Monroe, Spanish vice president; Lulu Posey of Lake Providence, secretary; and Robert Fisher of West Monroe, treasurer.

A committee was appointed by the president to draw up the constitution of the organization. Serving on this committee are: Carol Varner, Fred McDowell, Dennis Fields, Shirley Lord, and Zanona Flinn.

Proposed activities for the club include the breaking of a Christmas gift Pinata, singing Christmas carols, luncheons, and even a trip to Mardi Gras!

Northeast is attempting to accomplish something that the French and Spanish have been trying for centuries: a common meeting ground!

Big plans are in the making for Northwestern's 1955 homecoming, according to Leroy Miller, secretary-treasurer of the NSC alumni association. This should be one of the most successful homecomings in the long history of NSC, Miller said, for several reasons, one of which is a "new spirit" which exists on the college campus and among alumni throughout the state.

During the day — long observance — a number of events are scheduled, with a business session of alumni on the docket for 11:30 a. m., in which an amendment to increase the number of alumni officers will be voted on, Miller added. All alumni are urged to attend this meeting.

Following the business meeting, alumni will gather at the NSC Student Center for their annual luncheon. Reservations for the luncheon should be sent to Miller's office as soon as possible, he pointed out here today.

Election of officers for the forthcoming year will also take place at the business meeting, the results of which will be announced at the luncheon. B. H. Gibson of Shreveport is president of the Northwestern Alumni Association this year. Gibson, an insurance executive in the Ark-La-Tex city, has done an outstanding job in his capacity as alumni president, Miller added.

Other events during the homecoming celebration will include a coffee at NSC's Varnado Hall, during registration; the big parade to downtown Natchitoches; pre-game ceremonies in which Queen Murphy and her court will be presented and the football game between Northwestern and Southeastern at 2:30 p. m.

A homecoming ball from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight will climax the day's activities.

Bloodless Coup Places Brazil In Army Hands

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 11 (AP)—A bloodless military coup ousted Provisional President Carlos Coimbra da Luz today. In a quick sequel, Congress named Sen. Nereu Ramos to succeed him as temporary chief executive.

The shift was aimed to help prevent the possibility of an uprising which would keep President-elect Jucelino Kubitschek, landslide winner at the polls last month, from taking office next Jan. 31 for his five-year term.

Lehman To Press 5-Point Program On Human Rights

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-NY) said today he will press for a five-point program in the next session of Congress to assure Negroes and other minorities "equal human rights."

The fight for this objective, he said, is "one of the most important we face for the sake of our national prestige abroad and for our sense of tranquility and security at home."

Lehman, in a prepared address at the opening of a two-day civil rights meeting sponsored by the National Trade Union Committee for Racial Justice, said he will push for these federal measures:

1. A ban against federal school construction aid to communities which try to "avoid, evade and defy" the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in schools.
2. Federal legislation to curb conditions which "made possible such tragic and shameful incidents" as the murder of Emmett Till, a 14-year-old Negro youth, in Mississippi and "the actual acquittal of his assailants."
3. Federal laws protecting soldiers of a "minority race and national origin" who are attacked in some parts of the country.
4. A compulsory Fair Employment Practices Commission.
5. Legislation to set up a federal electoral commission to "insure to every individual in every part of the land the right to register and vote freely without intimidation or coercion of any kind."

Lehman said millions of voters are now disenfranchised. He said that in Mississippi only six out of every 100 potential Negro voters are registered.

The senator said he had little hope for passage of the program—other than a measure protecting minority-group soldiers—because of the general lassitude of many congressmen about civil rights.

CANNOT judge him FAIRLY by his ACE, which is not necessarily a reliable indication.

8. Generally true of the show NOW on Broadway. Furthermore, NOW is more comprehensive because the shows NOW on Broadway include those that happen to be NEW.

10. SEAT best fits the idea of "sitting". A SEAT, particularly, might make you want to SIT down. The HEAT is just as likely to make you want to LIE down.

14. HUDDLE is best. When an emergency arises our government leaders are said to get into a HUDDLE in an endeavor to work out means of meeting the emergency. It would be unfair to say that our politicians are so incompetent as to get into a HUDDLE when an emergency arises.

15. DRESS, on the "first night". She hasn't got to worry about her PRESS, and what they have to say, until the next morning.

22. ART is preferred. Why does the clue mention critics especially? Most ORDINARY PEOPLE will appreciate a first class ACT. It takes skilled preception (as of art critics) to enjoy the best in ART.

23. A really well-organized community would by a healthy one with RICKETS PRACTICALLY ELIMINATED. RACKETS could be minimized, or kept under control, but it would take more than good organization to make one practically non-existent. ROCKETS is too weak.

24. LET off, perhaps; but if NOT LET off, MARCHED, rather than LED, off to the guard-room.

CLUES DOWN:

1. The clue clearly implies that the answer must by masculine, favoring RAKE. FAKE need not be a man at all. It could equally be a woman.

3. "Lead to", suggesting in the near future favors LAW. Break your JAW and the suffering will be immediate. One hardly speaks of breaking a PAW.

7. A man is "DRIVEN so to speak, from BEHIND - as by a GOAD. GOLD lures him on, rather than drives him, GOOD is too weak.

12. The dances would only APPEAR to be FURIOUS ("full of violent rage"). Actually a dance would not be FURIOUS. The explorer might well be intrigued by the CURIOUS tribal dances.

13. RELENT best fits the clue. REPENT of your sins, and your conscience MUST be easier. There is no "may be" about it. IT MAY be easier when you RELENT; on the other hand it may not be easier, since RELENTING can be a sign of strength or weakness.

18. PLACE is best. The phrase "hold one's PEACE" is incompatible with "a bit of a weakling". A man who can't hold his PLACE in a team, for example, may be thought a bit of a weakling.

19. FIRM, yes; but it is goods, rather than large sums in cash, that are actually lost in a FIRE.

The Chamber of Deputies nominated Ramos, 66, by a vote of 185-72 at a hastily summoned special session to succeed Luz, who took refuge aboard a navy cruiser after being thrown out of office by the army before dawn. The Senate promptly approved this choice. Luz was officially declared unable to continue in office.

As head of the Chamber of Deputies, Luz had taken over as provisional president Tuesday from Joao Cafe Filho, who went on an indefinite leave of absence after suffering a heart attack.

The uprising was led by Gen. Henrique Teixeira Lott, who resigned only yesterday as war minister. It was based on the suspicion that Luz, as provisional chief executive, would pave the way for the rejection of Kubitschek as head of this nation.

Gen. Lott's professed aim is to insure the inauguration of the president-elect Jan. 31. Kubitschek was elected with leftist—including Communist—support. He is considered the political heir of the late President Getulio Vargas, who committed suicide last year after being given an ultimatum by elements of the armed forces to withdraw from office.

(Cabled press dispatches were censored in Rio de Janeiro, but correspondents were able to accept telephone calls from outside the country and talk freely. The associated Press was in telephone communication frequently with the Brazilian capital.)

Luz belongs to the same Social Democratic party as Kubitschek, but adhered to a dissident faction which was believed to favor a scheme of some military leaders to prevent Kubitschek from taking office. But most military chieftains were reported convinced of the legality of Kubitschek's election and, along with Lott, were determined that the constitution should be observed.

Senate confirmation of Ramos' elevation to the presidency was necessary to legalize his assumption of office. This followed a motion passed by the Chamber of Deputies that it recognized the constitutional article providing that the president be replaced by the head of the Senate when the president is unable, because of disability, to continue in office.

The action was without precedent in Brazil. Apparently the Chamber and the leaders of the military coup were attempting to give every appearance of legality to the selection of Ramos as temporary president. Although the constitution provides for the procedure, it stipulates that the president can be replaced in this way only if he is unable to hold office through disability. Opponents of the Chamber motion held that Luz, the deposed temporary president, was not suffering from any disability.

story continues. "It contains the name of the alleged killer and the names of two persons who can corroborate the story."

The News' account adds: "According to the letter, the murderer came ashore early on July 4, 1954, from a small cabin cruiser, which had anchored the night before in Bay Village Bay and which left at daybreak on the morning of the murder. The News was told that:

"The cruiser had been rented to two summer campers and a youth hired as a cook and general utility man. One of the campers was described as a 'heavy-drinking, woman-chasing loud guy, a very dangerous rough and tumble fighter. He has heavy bushy hair.'"

"This man left the cabin cruiser about 1 a.m. or later on July 4 and returned about daybreak in a rowboat which the cruiser had carried. His face and shirt were splattered with blood. He told the other two men he had been in a fight in town and suggested they pull out quietly before the cops spotted them. His companions were not surprised because he had a reputation as a brawler.

"Next day on the boat, this man told his companion that a fight had occurred in a house and he had given a man and a woman a severe beating. None of the three aboard knew at the time that Marilyn Sheppard was dead."

The News says the letter was received by an Ohio man—the newspaper did not name him—who forwarded it to defense attorney William J. Corrigan through another lawyer, Webster Lyman Jr., of Columbus, Ohio.

In Cleveland, Corrigan told a reporter this was the first time he had heard of the contents of the letter.

He said the information "undoubtedly was turned up by private investigators hired by the Sheppard family."

These investigators would not necessarily inform him or the family of every lead they turn up, he added.

Corrigan said the Sheppard family has been paying investigators "to seek out the real murderer of Marilyn Sheppard" ever since her husband first was accused of killing her.

Dr. Richard Sheppard, a brother of the convicted osteopath, said the family had not yet been informed of the letter by their detectives.

He said he hesitated to get his hopes up too much until "we can see whether it's another crank letter."

"I've had my hopes up and down so many times, I'm beginning to get rather philosophic about things," he added.

In Columbus, attorney Lyman said he had been told of the letter, but that "My informant destroyed the letter. He gave me the contents verbally."

The News said a search already is under way for the men in the letter.

A private plane, the News continues, left Cleveland last Wednesday for Canada to try to find the trio named in the letter. Two of the men named in the letter were said to have been known for years as summer campers along Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, particularly on the Canadian side.

The Sheppard family has been in D. Roosevelt.

be back at my accustomed duties, although they say that I must ease my way into them and not bulldoze my way into them."

Vice President Nixon, heading the welcome home delegation, told the President the crowd at the airport was "just a small indication of the joy and inspiration your return to Washington has brought to the people of the United States and people throughout the world."

"I know that I express the sentiments in their hearts when I say welcome back and God speed you in the days ahead," said Nixon.

Said the president, quietly: "Thank you, Dick."

He had a ready handshake for the vice president and for a surprise welcome—former President Hoover, who told Eisenhower he looked fine. There was another handshake for the President's son, Maj. John S. Eisenhower, and a kiss from John's wife, Barbara.

Then—begging off from further handshakes, and asking the assembled dignitaries to "let the wish take the place of the deed"—the President and Mrs. Eisenhower entered a plastic-top convertible and slowly drove off to the White House.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen the three doctors aboard the Colombine III examined the President just before the plane landed and reported, "There was absolutely no fatigue, as far as the President was concerned, on his flight."

The doctors also gave the chief executive another "brief and preliminary" checkup on his arrival at the White House, Hagerty said, and arranged a more detailed one later.

Eisenhower's only plans for tonight were to spend the evening with his family—including the three grandchildren, David, Barbara Ann and Susan, who greeted him as soon as he entered the White House from the south grounds.

Repeatedly on the drive from the airport, Eisenhower waved his hand to crowds lining streets on which troops were stationed, five paces apart, as an honor guard on the route from Memorial Bridge to the executive mansion.

He covered major news assignments throughout the world including six presidential campaigns, from Theodore Roosevelt to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

C. W. Hand and George Whitlow. Hand was also one of the top individual contenders, posting an 84.

The third-place Ouachita parish sheriff's department team consisted of L. Scarborough, W. Stevens, Frank Kirby and W. H. Bell.

Participating in the Shoot, which was held at Peace Officers Range on Buck Jones Lane here, were Bastrop, Monroe and West Monroe police departments, the Morehouse parish and Ouachita parish sheriff's departments, and Troop F of the Louisiana State Police.

T. O. Bancroft, chief range officer for the Louisiana Peace Officers Association and the state Municipal Peace Officers Association, pointed out that self defense is the objective of such peace officer shoots.

The range program, consisting of seven different events, presented the officers with actual circumstances under which some individual peace officer has been killed.

In the first event, each individual contestant fired five rounds standing and facing the target, which was a life-size sketch of the human figure with an inside circle indicating the more vital region of the body. In the second event, the contestants fired five rounds with their back to the target and in the third they shot five rounds while walking away from the target. The fourth exercise was shooting three rounds from the right hand and then shifting and firing two from the left. The fifth exercise called for shooting one shot at each of five targets and the sixth included firing two rounds at one target and three at another.

Bancroft pointed out that in one range exercise the officers run toward the target, firing as they run. He said this exercise is used only to remind peace officers a person cannot shoot accurately with a side-arm while running. He added that a police officer should not fire at a subject when the subject is running away, that the purpose of the sidearm is entirely self defense.

Sec. Brucker explained recently that his predecessor, Robert T. Stevens, had told the state of Louisiana that Polk would be re-acquired and a regular division stationed there if the state obtained enough land for the Army to hold large scale maneuvers. Brucker said he intended to carry out that commitment and late in October announced the reopening of Polk, its conversion to a permanent status and the stationing there of the 1st Armored Division.

The 4th Armored Division will remain at Ft. Hood, the Army said.

The Army said also that about 19,000 officers and enlisted men will be stationed at Polk, meaning that in addition to the armored division there will be housekeeping and supporting units drawn from other existing military bases.

Anti-Integration Group Asks Probe Of Negro Group

DALLAS, Nov. 11 (AP)—A State-wide group formed to fight forced integration of Negroes and whites today passed a resolution asking an investigation of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard was asked to investigate "the communist relationships of the NAACP in its efforts to force integration in Texas public schools."

Although the wording of the resolution constituted a charge, it was not backed by citing any instances of any such relationship two leaders, Ross Carlton and W. R. Hughes, agreed.

Carlton, a Dallas lawyer, was elected chairman of the association's executive committee. Hughes, a retired Dallas businessman, introduced the resolution.

The group picked the name of the Assn. of Citizens Councils of Texas. Such councils have operated in a number of towns in the South.

Carlton said the purpose of the group is "to combat the movement of forced integration of Negroes and whites in public schools or any other institution."

"If a persons wants to belong to an integrated organization, that's his business," Carlton said, "but we're against forced integration of any kind."

the side which starts a war" there. It has said the United States will furnish defensive weapons but enter no arms race with the communists who are furnishing equipment to Egypt.

On this point, Stevenson said this country must act to preserve "an equitable balance of strength so that neither side feels that it lives by the grace of its none too kindly neighbor."

"We must help, if need be, to counteract any Soviet attempt to upset such a balance and we must make it emphatically clear that the status quo shall not be changed by force," he declared. "But we do not want to see an arms race in this area."

In a speech commemorating the Woodrow Wilson Centennial, Stevenson made no direct reference to President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles. But he left no doubt he was critical of their handling of international affairs.

GENEVA, Nov. 11 (AP)—The United States and Britain tonight were reported weighing how to penalize swiftly the aggressor in any new war between Jews and Arabs.

Informants said the purpose of their study is to provide a basis for translating the 1950 American-British-French declaration into practicable deeds. That declaration, many times reaffirmed was intended to deter any would-be aggressor.

But American and British policymakers now recognize a new war to be a real possibility, largely as the result of Soviet bloc arms sales and offers to Arab nations. Accordingly they are now engaged in spelling out just how they can carry out their self-assumed 1950 obligation to act "within and outside the United Nations" against any major breach of the Palestine armistice.

In this Big Four meeting place as well as in their home capitals, officials of the two countries were said to be discussing international measures that could halt, or shorten, any war that might break out. They are vitally concerned lest such fighting engulf the whole Middle East, where the West has vast oil and strategic resources at stake.

Informants listed some of the actions which the United States and Britain believe might have to be taken against the nation deemed guilty of starting the trouble:

1. A total embargo on the supply of all war goods from Western and other friendly countries.
2. Imposition of an economic blockade.
3. Complete or partial rupture of diplomatic relations.

It was reported that as a last resort the United States, Britain and France would think about sending troops a sort of international sentry force to the battle zone to help restore peace and to keep the two sides apart.

California Cop's Suicide Attempt Blocked By Police

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 11 (AP)—A special police officer, apparently despondent because his wife left him, shot and wounded himself today and then defied fellow officers who finally flushed him out of his home with tear gas.

A newspaper reporter kept the man, G. H. Lofy, 33, busy talking on the telephone while police closed in on him and lobbed a tear gas bomb through a window.

Moments later Lofy dived out of a window, was captured and rushed to General Hospital. He had shot himself in the groin, police said.

"I'll kill any cop who tries to come in here," Lofy told reporter James Shambra of the Los Angeles Herald-Express on the phone just before the tear gas poured in on him.

"I won't let anybody in but my wife Lou," Shambra quoted Lofy as saying.

Lofy said he was armed with a .38 calibre revolver and had plenty of shells. But, according to reports, he did not use the gun against his surroundings.

Acquaintances said Lofy's wife left with their two children several days ago.

Shambra telephoned Lofy's home immediately after neighbors had reported hearing the shot.

G. B. Coolidge. Designer of this year's Christmas seal is Miss Jean Simpson New York artist. The seals this year show a boy and girl, plump and full of childish life.

The seals will go on sale this week and the first ones were sold to the mayor at the Monroe city hall, when Miss Myrtle Rodgers, retired principal of Georgia Tucker School made this initial sale. She has been honored by being named Ouachita parish chairman of the 1955 seal sales.

Stores of the Twin Cities are naming nights when they will be open for holiday sales. This information and the news of the annual Christmas seal sales, and knowledge that Thanksgiving is but a fortnight distant, makes it forcibly stressed that this old year is nearing its close.

Information out of New York tells that a man, Edward Mulstay, 54, has just returned there after a 19-day European trip.

Then the explanation is made that the trip was by no means planned in advance. Said Edward boarded an ocean liner to bid adieu to some friends who were to take trip. In haste on leaving home, he left his hearing aid and so when "All Aboard" was sounded, he failed to hear and first he knew he was with the others on an across-the-ocean-trip.

He said he enjoyed the trip but was a bit embarrassed by failure in preparing his wearing apparel for such an important journey.

Bandits Escape With $220,000 In Unusable Checks

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 11 (AP)—Two husky men armed with a revolver accosted a Pasadena Savings and Loan Assn. messenger today and escaped with nearly a quarter of a million dollars in checks. But all of them were reported to be uncashable.

Police said the messenger, James Farrell, was approached by the two men near a bank where the $220,000 in checks was to be deposited.

Farrell said the checks they took all had been marked "for deposit only."

New GOP Farm Program Includes Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 —UP— The administration's new farm recommendations to Congress next January will include a "soil bank" plan for retiring millions of surplus-producing acres from crop production, it was learned Friday.

Final details have not been worked out, but one official said flatly that "we will have a soil bank plan." He said he had 17 different programs on his desk for such a plan. Most versions have this much in common:

Farmers would contract with the government to remove a specific amount of land from production of such surplus crops as wheat, cotton and corn. They then would plant the land to grass and other soil-building crops. They also would follow good conservation practices.

In return, the government would give them payments partly covering lost income and conservation costs.

Farm organizations supporting the plan say it would result in "banking" fertility in the soil for future needs rather than storing the same fertility—in the form of surplus crops—in government warehouses.

The decision to ask Congress to approve a soil bank plan represents an about-face for the Agriculture Department. Only a few months ago it frowned on the idea. Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse told congressional committees then that it probably would cost too much and be too difficult to administer.

But the Senate Agriculture committee found widespread support for the plan in its recent coast-to-coast farm hearings. Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) and other members called it a likely solution to the problem of boosting farm income.

The Agriculture Department official said the number of acres farmers retire from crops probably will depend on how high Congress sets payments under the program.

The department's proposal probably will recommend paying farmers the cost of turning crop land to grass, plus whatever additional payment administration planners decide on, the official said.

Current thinking also calls for land retirement contracts running several years.

Economic, Moral Program Cited By C. E. Barham

MORGANZA, La., November 11. —(Special)—A program of "Economic and moral progress" was outlined here today by Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap) Barham.

Barham spoke in behalf of his candidacy for re-election on the Morrison ticket and also for Chief Morrison, candidate for governor, who was off the stump during the day.

Barham spoke here in Plaquemine and in Port Allen, Morrison was to rejoin his running mate for a telecast over station WBRZ-TV in Baton Rouge and for the opening of the tickets' headquarters in North Baton Rouge following the telecast.

In his talk here Barham said, "Chep is the only man in the race with an actual record of bringing industry to Louisiana. All of the candidates have been talking about this but Chep can point to a record of solid achievement in which he has brought 27 new industries to this area and doubled the per capita income of the people in his parish.

"Chep has an equally fine record of law enforcement and he was doing something constructive about it years before any of the other candidates were thinking about the subject. He took a wide open town which was ridden with gambling, prostitution and other rackets, and where there had been no new factories in 20 years, and turned it into one of the greatest industrial centers of the South.

"The progress in his area didn't just happen and he didn't do it single handed. But, he provided the leadership and the salesmanship."

Barham said that, "we are one ticket which can run on its own record and do not need to get votes on the demerits of our opponents."

The Lt. governor reported, "we're doing well in north Louisiana, which is my part of the state, just as the Morrison-Barham ticket is gaining strength in all parts of Louisiana."

Barham said, "it is especially encouraging to find so many of our fine women getting behind the Morrison ticket for example, just a couple of days ago we had a big meeting of civic-minded women at a meeting in Avoyelles parish."

The speaker said, "it is time for a South Louisiana man to become governor. Chep Morrison is not only a south Louisiana man but a man with youth, energy, and a record of accomplishment who can give Louisiana a new look."

In Plaquemine, Barham was introduced by Mayor Charles Schenkel.

Ike Returns To Capitol Facing Host Of Problems

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11—UP— President Eisenhower's homecoming Friday thrust him into the midst of a host of personal and international problems which will demand all the attention his health will permit him to give them.

Serious situations have developed both at home and abroad during the 59 days he has been away from the capital. The immediate urgent business awaiting the President would give any vigorous man a workout.

When Mr. Eisenhower left for his Colorado vacation, hopes for peace were being carried high by the "Geneva spirit" he helped to create at the mid-summer Big Four conference.

The political situation also was relatively serene. Most observers felt he could not miss being re-elected if he ran again. And Republican leaders were confident he would run.

This picture has been radically altered by Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack and by Russia's tactics at the current foreign ministers meeting in Geneva. Many challenging decisions await him.

Sometime in the near future the President must decide whether to resume an all-out political life or retire at the end of his present term. Pressure for him to make the crucial announcement is building up.

In Europe and in the Middle East, the Soviet Union is pursuing a course that seems to endanger even the doubtful peace which the post-war world had achieved. The sweet-scented atmosphere that prevailed last summer is vanishing.

Urgent questions of foreign policy and defense have been created.

American Puts Out Sicilian Well Fire

RAGUSA, Sicily, Nov. 11—UP—Texan oil well firefighter Myron Kinley put out in 11 hours Friday a fire that had been raging for five days in a Sicilian oil well.

Kinley, summoned from Houston by the Italian-American "Gulf Italia" company, inched up to the flaming hole early Friday in a protective suit and helmet while firemen played streams of water on him.

Tractors dragged away the remains of the twisted superstructure around the well.

Kinley, after his close-up inspection, ordered water pumped at high pressure into an outlet pipe that led into the drill hole.

Stock Market Pushes Toward Old Record High

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP) — The stock market resumed its recovery advance today and pushed hard toward the old record high mark of last September.

The drive ahead followed a one-session breather when the market was mixed to lower.

Prices were up 1 to around 5 points at the best with losses held to a low point.

The rise was accomplished in the semi-holiday day atmosphere of Veterans Day. Banks were closed, but most businesses were open.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $2.20, one of the best in a month and closed at $177.30. The record peak of Sept. 23 was $181.50.

The industrial component of the average was ahead $2.50, rails were up $3.00, and utilities were up 40 cents.

The force of the advance was dimmed by the fact that the market was the narrowest in more than two years with only 1,074 individual issues traded. Of these, 562 were higher and 268 lower with 38 new highs and 9 new lows for the year scored.

Volume also was low with 2,000,000 shares traded, that compares with 2,500,000 shares traded yesterday.

The bond market was higher. The over-the-counter market for U. S. government issues was closed for Veterans Day.

Madison Farmer Produces Large Yield Of Corn

BATON ROUGE, Nov. 11 (Special) — What is probably the largest yield of corn ever produced on a commercial scale has been grown by a Louisiana farmer, it was disclosed today by Agriculture Commissioner Dave L. Pearce.

C. W. "Dub" Kennedy, manager of Ashby Plantation in Madison parish, raised 143 bushels of corn per acre on 61.5 acres, Pearce said.

About 100 bushels per acre is considered good yield, Pearce added.

Kennedy operated his test acreage with the cooperation of the U. S. U. extension service and the federal soil conservation service, Pearce said, and used Funk's Hybrid Seed G-773W. His total cost amounted to 50 cents per bushel.

Tex. 'Millionaire' Sought For Theft Of Several 'Loans'

BRENNHAM, Tex., Nov. 11 (AP) — The sister of a missing Houston man who claimed he was heir to an $11 million estate told the Brenham Banner-Press Friday her mother used in the Austin State Hospital in 1953 without funds.

The missing man, William Morris White, 32, has been named in a $100,000 pickup order after a complaint accusing him with stealing $100,000 from the Brenham Banner-Press.

The sister, Miss Margaret Morris White, 37, also told the Brenham Banner-Press her brother was dishonorably discharged by the Marine Corps during World War II after he was convicted and served time in prison for assault with a deadly weapon at Norfolk, Va.

The next charge was filed against White after Lehman said the $100,000 was "only one of a number of sums running into several thousands of dollars" which Lehman had advanced White, Lehman said.

White had told him he had inherited an $11 million estate and needed the cash to take care of it.

Actually, according to the sister, White didn't have a penny.

She told the Brenham-Press she learned of a $500,000 gift which her brother offered to the Rev. R. J. Weber, pastor of a Lutheran church near Brenham.

Miss White said she went to Brenham last summer to look into the proposed gift to the church, but she said the Rev. Weber wouldn't talk to her about it.

She said she returned to Houston and employed attorney E. J. Williams to look into the matter.

Later, she said, Williams called her to his office and she found Leslie E. King, White's attorney, there talking with Williams.

She said King told her an attorney wanted to give the Washington county church some money in appreciation for what the pastor had done, and was using White as a go-between.

A Brenham banker, F. J. Kubitz, said White recently wanted to deposit a $500,000 check in his bank and then withdraw $50,000, but he turned White down.

King, of Austin, came to Brenham Thursday and said that he also had advanced White $2,500 on the report of his inheritance. King said he had not yet seen proof of the inheritance.

White's sister told the Brenham-Press the last time she saw her brother she was "afraid he was going off his rocker. He talked too long and told lies by the hundreds," she said.

The sister said White had told Lehman at one time that former Vice President John Nance Garner of Okla., Tex., was executor of the estate he was to inherit. However, Garner has denied any knowledge of the case.

Stock Market Pushes Toward Old Record High

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (AP)—The stock market resumed its recovery advance today and pushed hard toward the old record high marks of last September.

The drive ahead followed a one-session breather when the market was mixed to lower.

Prices were up 1 to around 5 points at the best with losses held to a low point.

Prices were up 1 to around 5 points at the best with losses held to a low point.

The rise was accomplished in the semi-holiday day atmosphere of Veterans Day. Banks were closed, but most businesses were open.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $2.20, one of the best in a month and closed at $177.30. The record peak of Sept. 23 was $181.50.

The industrial component of the average was ahead $2.50, rails were up $3.00, and utilities were up 40 cents.

The force of the advance was dimmed by the fact that the market was the narrowest in more than two years with only 1,074 individual issues traded. Of these, 582 were higher and 268 lower with 38 new highs and 9 new lows for the year scored.

Volume also was low with 2,000,000 shares traded. That compares with 2,550,000 shares traded yesterday.

The bond market was higher. The over-the-counter market for U. S. government issues was closed for Veterans Day.

Baptist Leaders Deny Approval Of Desegregation

MEMPHIS, Nov. 11 (AP)—The Tennessee Baptist Convention today said it had not, as erroneously reported, approved a resolution authorizing trustees of the state's Baptist-supported schools to lift segregation.

The Rev. Mark Harris of Memphis, chairman of the resolutions committee, said the convention merely approved a resolution which referred the original resolution to the trustees — thus avoiding direct action.

The resolution to switch the integration resolution to the trustees passed the some 2,000 church messengers without a dissenting vote at the windup of the 81st annual convention yesterday, he said.

The Associated Press erroneously reported the original resolution, submitted by the Baptist Students Union, was approved. The BSU drafted its proposal at a recent meeting in Clarksville, Tenn., attended by 500 high school and college students.

Dr. W. Fred Kendall of Jackson, immediate past president of the convention, said the racial question was "not a matter to be solved in the hurried discussion of a convention floor."

He said the trustees are the "proper group to give full study to this intricate problem and bring about a solution that will be adequate."

R. N. Ware Resigns Procurement Post

Richard N. (Dick) Ware, candidate for Ouachita parish state representative, said today that he had resigned his post as parish supervisor for the real estate division of Camp Polk.

Ware, who served as supervisor for Ouachita and Caldwell parishes, was one of 12 men selected in the state to secure enough land in order to re-open Camp Polk on a permanent basis.

Ware said that since the camp had been officially re-opened as Fort Polk he felt that his services were no longer required and that he was resigning the position in order to devote his full time to the campaign.
